1 THE COURT: Good morning everyone. I
2 appreciate everybody making themselves available to 3 me this morning.

4 The Court will call Voter Reference
5 Foundation, LLC, et al., versus Hector Balderas, 6 et al., Case Number 22-CV-0222 JB/KK.

7 If counsel will enter their appearances for 8 the plaintiffs.

9 MR. GREIM: Your Honor, Eddie Greim and 10 Matt Miller, Graves Garrett, Kansas City, Missouri, 11 for the plaintiffs.

12 THE COURT: Mr. Greim, good morning to you.
13 Mr. Miller, good morning to you. And I think I also 14 see Mr. Harrison there. So Mr. Harrison, good 15 morning to you.

16 All right. And for the defendants.

17 MS. SERAFIMOVA: Good morning, Your Honor,
18 Olga Serafimova for the defendants.

19 THE COURT: All right. Ms. Serafimova, 20 good morning to you.

21 All right. Anyone else needs or wants to 22 enter an appearance?

23 All right. I think that Mr. Greim --

24 MR. GREIM: Your Honor, before we go, there 25 is a guest with us today, I just wanted to announce.

1 They won't be appearing. But we have two summer 2 associates, Claire Hausman and Rachel Owings, who are 3 at the University of Missouri. So if everyone sees a 4 "Chausman," that is one of them. So she will be with 5 us today, not appearing though.

6 THE COURT: All right. Ms. Hausman, good 7 morning to you. And who was the other one, Mr.
8 Greim?

9 MR. GREIM: Rachel Owings.

10 THE COURT: All right. Ms. Owings, good
11 morning to you.

12 All right. Mr. Greim, I think you were 13 going to present more witnesses or evidence, so I'll 14 let you start the proceedings this morning.

15 MR. GREIM: Thank you, Your Honor.

16 We're going to start with Ms. Vigil, who is 17 still with us today. After I finish with her, 18 Ms. Pino will go, and I think Ms. Serafimova will put 19 her on, and I will sort of do my cross and my own 20 direct of her as a witness together. And I think 21 that will save us some time.

22 THE COURT: All right. Ms. Vigil, I'll 23 remind you that you're still under oath.

MANDY VIGIL,

4 was questioned and testified further as follows:

DIRECT EXAMINATION (Continued)

6 | BY MR. GREIM:

7 Q. Ms. Vigil, you recall, when we spoke about 8 a month ago, we talked about forms quite a bit? Do 9 you remember that?

10 A. I do.

11 Q. All right. And it's true, isn't it, Ms.
12 Vigil, that when you receive a form from a requester 13 for voter data, you don't go and investigate the 14 underlying information; correct?

15 A. Correct.

16 Q. And you'll even accept older versions of 17 your forms; correct?

18 A. Correct.

19 Q. And that would include even Exhibit A,
20 which was the form submitted by Mr. Lippert on behalf 21 of Local Labs in this case; right?

22 A. Correct.

23 Q. And one purpose of the affidavit in the 24 form is for users to understand the legal 25 requirements for the use and sharing of data; isn't it?

1 that right?

2 A. Right. The affidavit is a required form in 3 the statute. But yes, the contents are created with 4 the intent to provide guidance.

5 Q. Okay. I want to switch gears a little bit 6 and talk about something we skipped over last month.
7 And that is the Secretary of State's statements, and 8 also statements that appear on the Secretary's 9 website about voter data. Okay?

10 A. Okay.

11 Q. So first, I'm going to ask you to take a 12 look at Plaintiffs' Exhibit 3. And Mr. Miller, 13 whenever we refer to an exhibit, rather than sharing 14 a screen, he's going to drop that into the chat.

15 MR. GREIM: You know, before we go further, 16 I see that one of the later witnesses has logged in, 17 and we had an agreement that we were going to observe 18 the rule here. I see Ms. Pino is on right now.

19 MS. SERAFIMOVA: Yes, I think she must have

7 to Plaintiffs' Exhibit 3?

8 A. I can pull that up in an email if you give 9 me just a moment. Plaintiffs' Exhibit -- what 10 number?

11 Q. Three. Okay. Are you there?

12 A. I am. It is opening right now.

13 MR. GREIM: Is the Court able to see the 14 exhibits right now?

15 THE COURT: I can find them in the book. I 16 don't see them on the screen.

21 MR. GREIM: Okay, great.

2 So I'm just going to go through slowly. I don't 3 think you're able to do that. Tell me if you can.

4 A. No.

5 Q. Okay. I'm just going to slowly go through.
6 I'm going to represent to you that before our last 7 hearing, we just took this shot of the Secretary of 8 State's website, and particularly went to the spot 9 that talks about voter data information. Now, we 10 pulled this down and disclosed it to your counsel and 11 to all parties last month. Have you seen this 12 exhibit before?

13 A. I have.

14 Q. Okay. And so do you recognize this as a 15 true and accurate shot from the Secretary of State's 16 website?

17 A. Yes.

18 Q. I'm going to direct you to -- we'll go 19 right here. I'm going to try to move my cursor over.
20 Do you see there is an area that says, "State of New 21 Mexico vote data information request," and then it 22 talks about making a request. You'll see this middle 23 paragraph it talks about something called SERVIS?

24 A. Um-hum.

25 Q. It describes what can be purchased. Do you

1 see it says, "SERVIS data may be purchased for 2 government and campaign purposes only." Did I read 3 that right?

4 A. You did.

5 Q. And then, if you go down to the bottom of 6 that paragraph, it says, "Anyone who purchases SERVIS
7 data must sign an authorization form (PDF format) 8 swearing the data will not be made available for, or 9 used for commercial or unlawful purposes." Did I 10 read that correctly?

11 A. You did.

12 Q. Now, are those true statements?

13 A. They are.

14 Q. I'm going to focus on the last sentence in 15 this paragraph. "Anybody who purchases SERVIS data 16 must sign the authorization form." And here's what 17 it says they swear to: "That the data will not be 18 made available for, or used for commercial or 19 unlawful purposes."

20 Now, that sentence does not say that you
21 must sign an authorization form swearing the data 22 will not be made available, does it?

23 A. I think it's encompassed in the unlawful 24 purpose. But those specific words are not there.

25 Q. So, in other words, the Secretary of State

1 reads this as, you know, the data not being made
2 available for an unlawful purpose means the data 3 can't be made available at all? Is that your 4 testimony?

5 A. No. I think that this is a high-level
6 statement. And I think, when you look at the form, 7 there are more details. But I don't think this is 8 meant to restate every item in the statute.

9 Q. Okay. So is it your testimony that that 10 sentence is not fully accurate then?

11 A. I think it is an accurate statement. I do 12 think it does not go into the same detail that we do 13 on the authorization form.

14 Q. Okay. Let me ask you this: Can the data 15 be made available for some lawful purposes?

16 A. I think that the data can be made available 17 within an organization that appropriately requests 18 and receives the data.

19 Q. Okay.

20 A. So the data is provided to individuals or 21 organizations that appropriately request it. So the 22 data is provided.

23 Q. So the Secretary of State's position is 24 that the organization can make the data available to 25 itself?

1 A. Correct. The requester -- anyone that is 2 requesting the data may receive and utilize the data.

3 Q. Okay. And on the form it asks the 4 requester to disclose an organization; correct?

5 A. It does.

6 Q. Okay. And so the Secretary of State's 7 interpretation is that the data can be disseminated 8 within the organization but not outside of the 9 organization?

10 A. Yeah, if there is a new requester, a new 11 individual, a new organization, then they need to 12 also request it for themselves.

13 Q. Let me ask you about the first line. It 14 says, "The data may be purchased for government and 15 campaign purposes only." I don't see anything in 16 there about "election related." Why is that word not 17 in the first sentence?

18 A. I don't think there is a specific reason.
19 I think it's just an assumption that this section of 20 the website is relating to all elections. That is 21 what we do in our office.

22 Q. Okay. But could someone request the data 23 for a government purpose that is not election 24 related?

25 A. There is a specific definition of 1 governmental purpose.

2 Q. Right.

3 A. So it doesn't require it to be election 4 specific for the government.

5 Q. Right. So government related is not really 6 a subset of election related, it's an independent 7 category; correct?

8 A. I think that it does provide for the 9 government to use it outside of an election purpose, 10 correct.

11 Q. Okay. So are there any -- and I asked you 12 this before; we had a hard time nailing down an 13 answer -- are there any election-related purposes 14 that are not government and not campaign purposes 15 that are permissible?

16 A. No, I think that the two statutory 17 definitions really encompass any election-related 18 purpose. So between the two, that should cover all 19 of the appropriate uses of the data.

20 Q. Okay. Well, your answer had two parts to 21 it. So first you said that government and campaign 22 encompasses any election-related purposes, then you 23 said that government and campaign encompasses all the 24 permissible uses. And so possibly those two 25 statements are in conflict, and I want to spend a

1 little time with you on that.

2 What if there is an election-related use
3 that is to study the way the election was run, so 4 it's not to advance anyone's campaign. Is that a 5 permissible use?

6 A. So I think adding a specific hypothetical 7 question would certainly require some legal analysis
8 with our general counsel. But, again, I feel like 9 election -- anything election related is encompassed 10 by either an election administrator, which would be 11 the government, and/or an election campaign, or 12 somebody that is engaging in the election in some 13 form. So those two definitions really do cover any 14 sort of election-related purpose.

15 Q. Okay. All right, let's move ahead.

16 I'm now going to take you to Exhibit G, 17 which is one of our joint exhibits. I will try to 18 pull that up now. Can everyone see Exhibit G?

19 THE COURT: The Court can.

20 A. Yes.

21 Q. Very good. So I'm going to just slowly 22 scroll through. I'm going to represent to you that 23 this has been admitted by the parties as a joint 24 exhibit. And this is a news release issued by the 25 Secretary of State on March 2, 2022. And the contact

1 is Alex Curtas, who had been a witness, but we are

3 So as I slowly scroll through, you'll see 4 this is something about something called the New 5 Mexico Audit Force, an entity that was involved in 8 document?

9 A. I'm familiar with that advisory.

10 Q. And did you have a roll in drafting it?

11 A. Not the content, not the exact language, 12 but certainly I was part of conversations as to why 13 it was necessary.

14 Q. Okay. I'm going to take you to -- and by 15 the way, to your knowledge, is all the information in 16 this accurate?

17 A. Yes.

18 Q. Okay. Let's look at this first bullet 19 point. Again, this is from March 2, so about four 20 months ago. The second sentence of the first bullet 21 point on page 3 says, "This data can only be obtained 22 by certain groups, like academic organizations and 23 political parties." And then I think there is 24 supposed to be a period. It says, "The New Mexico 25 Audit Force is not one of these specified groups, and

1 has not obtained New Mexico voter data from our 2 office." Okay, did I read that correctly?

3 A. You did read that correctly.

4 Q. Now, I'm going to ask you about this idea 5 that it can only be obtained by certain groups. Is 6 there any reference to particular groups in the 7 statute?

8 A. No, I think we've covered the two 9 definitions that guide who can receive the data and 10 under what circumstance.

11 Q. Is it true that only certain groups can 12 receive the data?

13 A. I think that the more appropriate 14 description would be that there is a specific process 15 that needs to be followed to receive the data.

16 Q. Okay. So there is nothing special about 17 academic organizations that makes them able to 18 receive the data; correct?

19 A. Nothing in the statute specifically.

20 Q. Okay. Now, it says, "The New Mexico Audit 21 Force is not one of these specified groups." Now, is 22 that the reason why the New Mexico Audit Force was 23 referred for criminal prosecution that it was not one 24 of the specified groups?

25 A. No, it was really the way that the data was

1 being utilized, and the fact that they had not 2 requested the data directly. So we have no idea 3 where they received the data. That was an issue.
4 And also the way that it was being utilized to 5 essentially intimidate voters. That was the problem.

6 Q. I see. And so it was something about the 7 use that was inappropriate?

8 A. And the fact that they did not request that 9 data from our office.

10 Q. Okay. I understand your position on that.
11 I'm going to focus on that first point. So did you 12 receive information that they were intimidating
13 voters?

14 A. We did.

15 Q. Okay. And how did you receive that 16 information?

17 A. We received that information both through 18 the county clerk's office, who was receiving voter 19 calls. We received direct voter calls. And there 20 was also social media information that was being 21 circulated that we were aware of.

22 Q. Give me an example of what kind of 23 intimidation, what counts as intimidation?

24 A. So there is a specific statutory definition 25 of intimidation, that, if you'd like, we can look at

1 that. But in this case, the voters were being told 2 that they were, first of all, representing a 3 government entity, which was not accurate. So that 4 was of concern that they were misrepresenting and 5 really identifying themselves as a trusted government 6 entity in that community, which was false. So making 7 a false statement was of concern.

8 And then, at that point, inquiring as to if 9 this person voted, how they voted, who they voted 10 for, information that was not required of the voter, 11 and was being presented as if it was a requirement to 12 answer these individuals, because they were 13 representing a government entity.

14 Q. Was the group hired by the county
15 government?

16 A. There was a contract with the county
17 government between this entity.

18 Q. Were the voters threatened in some way?

19 A. I don't have a specific example, but I 20 certainly watched a video that was circulated on 21 social media. And that individual felt very 22 uncomfortable, felt very concerned that their data 23 was publicly available, and they didn't understand 24 how or why it was made available, and they didn't 25 understand if they had to answer, or why this person

1 was in front of them. So there was a lot of concern
2 and confusion. And in this case that voter did feel 3 strongly that they were being intimidated.

4 Q. Okay. And so let me ask you, then, would 5 you agree that the Audit Force, that the category of 6 work that they were doing was election related?

7 A. You know, it did pertain to gathering 8 information about an election.

9 Q. Okay. And would you agree that it related 10 to the government's operation of the election in 11 Otero County?

12 A. No. This case -- you know, we did look 13 into the contract in particular. And the Commission 14 was not in contract with these individuals to do what 15 they were calling a canvass. So that was something 16 that they did on a voluntary basis, and it was not 17 part of their contract with that entity. So I do not 18 feel like they were doing the work of the government, 19 no.

20 Q. Okay. Well, I'm not asking if they did the 21 work of the government. Were they investigating the 22 conduct of the election, though?

23 A. In particular, by canvassing and 24 intimidating voters, I do not believe that would have 25 aligned with a government purpose, no.

1 Q. Okay. And the reason that you call this 2 "intimidation" is that they stated that they were in 3 a position of authority, and there was an allegation 4 that they asked people who they voted for?

5 A. And they were physically appearing at 6 someone's door, and nobody had any idea why they were 7 there. And they were in the video that I observed, 8 you know, aggressive in that nature.

9 Q. Okay. So you watched a video of an 10 interaction between someone?

11 A. An Otero County voter and a representative 12 of the New Mexico Audit Force.

13 Q. Okay. So someone recorded one of these 14 interactions?

15 A. Correct.

16 Q. And so in the Secretary of State's view, is 17 that a reason under the statute to deny access to the 18 data?

19 A. I don't think it would be about receiving 20 data. Again, once you have the data, if you've 21 received it through the appropriate statutory 22 process, and then you go on to use it in a way that 23 is unlawful, those are two separate things. So you 24 can receive data lawfully, and then, if you choose to 25 use it unlawfully, those are two separate paths.

1 Q. I understand. I'm asking you about the 2 first thing. If this New Mexico Audit Force comes 3 back and says, Okay, there has been a primary -- 4 which I understand there has been recently in New 5 Mexico -- we want to now understand whether that was 6 run properly; can we -- you know, we're going to 7 directly request the voter list. Would their past 8 conduct be a reason to deny them access under the 9 statute?

10 A. I would definitely need to seek guidance 11 from my general counsel in particular. I think if we 12 had certainty that they were going to use that data 13 to, again, intimidate voters, it would absolutely 14 have to be something we would consider.

15 Q. Who decides whether there has been 16 intimidation by the way? Whose call is that to make?

17 A. I think it's probably -- you know, our 18 office does have some authority to gather facts.
19 Ultimately, we are not a law enforcement agency. So 20 anytime we have a concern with the law potentially 21 being violated, we at that point would refer it to 22 the Attorney General, who does have the resources to 23 truly investigate, and then move forward if there is 24 a determination that there is a violation.

25 Q. Let me change this to a hypothetical now.

1 Let's say that the New Mexico Audit Force brings in, 2 you know, new people, and they knock on doors. They 3 obtain the list from you, and they knock on doors of 4 people who are listed as having voted, and they say:
5 Hello, I'm with the New Mexico Audit Force -- or 6 whatever their name is -- and I'm here to ask whether 7 you voted. Voter records show that you did, and I'd 8 like to ask you whether you, in fact, voted. Would 9 that be a lawful use of the data?

10 A. I think, as long as it doesn't rise to the 11 level of intimidating the voter, there is not a 12 prohibition on using the data to interact with 13 voters.

14 Q. What if they shared some of the data; for 15 example, by telling the voter that the record shows 16 that they voted, is that disclosure prohibited under 17 the statute?

18 A. Disclosing that the voter participated?

19 Q. Right.

20 A. That disclosure is not prohibited.

21 Q. Why not?

22 A. There is not a strict prohibition. That is 23 public information. There is no way that anyone, you 24 know, knows how you voted, what selection you made.

25 But the fact that you participated in an election is 1 public information.

2 Q. So someone sharing information about who 3 voted is not a violation of the law?

4 A. There is protected information and there is 5 public information. And I think that when you are, 6 you know, definitely interacting with someone about 7 their own information, right, you're having a 8 conversation with a voter, there is not necessarily a 9 strict prohibition. If I'm handing over a list of 10 all voters, that's different, Mr. Greim.

11 Q. Okay. So is there an exception, then -- 12 we've heard the testimony before that all sharing, 13 regardless of the use, of the voter data is 14 prohibited. So is there an exception for someone 15 sharing data with the voter himself or herself?

16 A. I don't know of a specific exception. And 17 I think that the scenario that you described to me 18 was one individual having a conversation about their 19 specific information.

20 Q. Exactly. And my question is -- I don't see 21 an exception for that in the statute, but it sounds 22 like the Secretary of State believes there is one.
23 And I'm just asking, you know, where is that? Is 24 there some other part of the law that provides that 25 exception?

1 A. No.

2 Q. That's just the Secretary's chosen method
3 of enforcing the statute?

4 A. Not necessarily. I think that we are just 5 discussing one specific scenario in particular, and 6 that's what my response was to.

7 Q. Okay. Well, we'll try a few more scenarios 8 later and see if there are other exceptions that 9 maybe aren't in the statute.

10 Let's move on to Exhibit E. Now, this may 11 be just a bit blurry, but I'm showing you what we've 24 Q. Who drafts these tweets?

25 A. Alex Curtas, our communications director.

2 A. I don't know who reviews them before they 3 go out. I would assume Sharon Pino, who is our 4 Deputy Secretary. But I do not review every single 5 tweet.

6 Q. Okay. I'm going to start with this one.

7 I'm just going to ask you: You'll see the Secretary 8 of State is shown as a saying, "Voter data in New 9 Mexico is protected from malicious actors, and voter 10 data can only be obtained for election campaign or 11 government/academic purposes by signing an affidavit 12 and paying a fee." Now, is that accurate?

13 A. I think there is a use of "academic," which 14 isn't necessarily in the statute. I don't think it's 15 prohibited. But again, academic is a term that's not 16 specifically defined in the voter data section.

17 Q. How does the Secretary of State's Office 18 apply that term "academic"?

19 A. We have not, in particular, had to make a 20 determination on that term.

21 Q. Okay. Well, do you know where this comes 22 from? Why the Secretary is telling people academic 23 is another legitimate purpose?

24 A. Again, I didn't review or draft this tweet.

25 Q. Okay. So who at the Secretary of State's

3 explain that.

4 Q. Okay. Let's see, I'm skipping ahead a
5 little bit, but I'm going to move down to the next 6 tweet. And I'll represent to you that this is 7 referring to the ProPublica article that sort of 8 launched our controversy here. The date of this 9 tweet is March the 8th. Do you see that?

10 A. I do.

11 Q. And you'll see that the Secretary of State 12 sends it out. She says, "Important in-depth piece 13 from ProPublica regarding coordinated cross-country 14 attempt to impugn the integrity of our voter rolls."
15 Do you see that?

16 A. I do.

17 Q. Now, to impugn the integrity of the voter 18 rolls is not to actually damage the voter rolls; is 19 it?

20 A. You know, again, I didn't participate in 21 drafting this tweet, nor do I have information as to 1 our client has impugned the integrity of the New 2 Mexico's voter rolls?

3 A. I don't have a position on that.

4 Q. Okay. You don't know whether they did or 5 did not?

6 A. I have not read this article, which I think 7 that is specifically what that tweet is referring to.
8 So I don't feel prepared to respond to anything 9 contained in that article, or our office's 10 interpretation of the article.

11 Q. Do you know what "impugn" means?

12 A. Yes.

13 Q. Okay. What's your definition of impugn?

14 A. If you'd like to share with me what you 15 understand that to mean, that's probably a better 16 approach.

17 Q. Okay. We can go either way. That's all 18 right. I don't want to prolong this. You know, to 19 impugn the integrity, I would say is to criticize or 20 to cast into doubt the integrity of the voter rolls.
21 And it's probably a degree of severity a little above
22 what I said.

23 So let me ask you this: Has Voter 24 Reference Foundation, you know, cast into doubt the 25 integrity of the voter rolls?

1 A. Again, you know, I didn't read the article.
2 But what I do know is that there was statements made 3 on VoteRef's website, in particular, that spoke to a 4 discrepancy. And I think using the term
5 "discrepancy" was an inappropriate use of the term 6 and interpretation of the data.

7 So in that case, yes, I think there was 8 doubt cast, and it was really analyzed in a way that 9 had incomplete information. So I don't think it was 10 presented in a way that provided clarity to a reader
11 about website content. And I do think it 12 inappropriately called it a discrepancy.

13 Q. Okay. Now, we talked before about the 14 Secretary of State's view that this Audit Force 15 engaged in intimidation, and that that would be a 16 reason to deny future access to the voter data. Do 17 you think that VRF's conduct is similar to the Audit
18 Force's conduct, a reason to deny Voter Reference 19 Foundation access to the voter rolls in the future?

20 A. Number one, I think to clarify my previous 21 response when we were discussing New Mexico Audit 22 Force, they have not requested the data, number one.

23 And number two, their specific use and the 24 examples that we discussed did appear to be 25 intimidating to voters.

1 And so the purpose of the advisory was to 2 provide clarity to voters as to what the law provides 3 for, what they do and do not have to respond to, so 4 that everyone had the information to handle someone 5 at their door as they felt appropriate. Now, you're 6 asking me if Voter Ref has engaged in voter 7 intimidation?

8 Q. No. No, my question is whether Voter Ref's 9 conduct that we just, that you just described, would 10 form a basis for refusing Voter Ref access to the 11 data that makes a future request.

12 A. So Voter Ref is not the same as New Mexico 13 Audit Force, from my perspective. Their use in this 14 case is the fact that they are distributing the data.
15 Making it available on the Worldwide Web is the issue 16 in particular with VoteRef.

17 Q. Okay. So your testimony, then, is that 18 criticism of the voter rolls that you deem to be 19 inaccurate or unfair should not be a basis to deny 20 Voter Reference Foundation access to the data?

21 A. Our concern, in particular, is the fact 22 that it's being -- that the voter information is 23 being made public. You are correct.

24 Q. Okay. So the answer to my question is yes, 25 then; is that right?

1 A. The fact that they're analyzing the data is 2 not a concern. The fact that they are posting 3 publicly voter information is the concern.

4 Q. So if someone were to say that the fact
5 that Voter Reference Foundation took data and blasted 6 it out across the internet, and that's what violates 7 state law, limiting use of the voter rolls solely for 8 campaign and government activity, that wouldn't be 9 strictly accurate in your view, would it?

10 A. I'm sorry? Can you restate your question?

11 Q. Sure. You know what, that's a hard 12 question. I'll just strike that. We'll move on.

13 I want to go back to -- I do want to go 14 back to a few hypotheticals, though, to see what 15 other exception may exist. And then, you know, we'll 16 have a few questions after that, and then I'll be 18 So political parties can get the data;

19 correct?

20 A. Correct.

21 Q. The Democratic Party gets the data; right?

22 A. All parties get the data.

25 A. I think they can share it within their

2 Q. Can a democratic candidate as part of a

4 entity that has to separately pay for the 5 information?

6 A. I think, if it's within the party that 7 they're sharing it, that is still within the 8 organization. So any party could share it within 9 their party.

10 Q. Okay, including with candidates?

11 A. Correct.

12 Q. And candidate campaigns?

13 A. Correct.

14 Q. Okay. What about a party sharing it with 15 volunteers, who are not employees or contractors; 16 they just answered an ad, and show up one day, and,
17 you know, go door to door, would the volunteer -- 18 could they share the data with the volunteers?

19 A. Again, you know, I think that our analysis 20 has reached the level of within the organization. So 21 if we had factual based scenarios, and it needed to 22 be reviewed by an attorney, that would be something 23 that I would check in with the attorney.

24 What I feel confident in stating is that

3 you'd have to check with an attorney?

4 A. Correct.

5 Q. Go ahead.

6 A. I'm good. Thank you.

7 Q. And so, presumably, people, regular 8 citizens who want to comply with these, also probably 9 have to talk to an attorney as well to understand how 10 to comply with this?

11 A. I think anyone can talk to an attorney if 12 they feel the need to. I don't think that is what I 13 just stated. I think I -- our office has an 14 obligation to make sure we're following the statute 15 in all cases. So if there is ever an area where I 16 need clarity, I will seek guidance from an attorney.

17 Q. Let's go back to your next -- the other 18 issue. We talked about Otero County earlier. It 19 sounds like there is an exception for a canvasser to 20 discuss someone's information with the voter

1 somebody having a conversation. So, in particular, I 2 don't think we would take an action against someone 3 having a conversation with a voter.

4 Q. Okay. What about if an individual has a
5 conversation with a voter about that person's spouse 6 or other members of the household, does that 7 exception still apply?

8 A. Again, I said there is no legal exception 9 in the statute for sharing the data.

10 Q. Right. You're just saying you wouldn't 11 refer it for criminal prosecution?

12 A. In the one specific scenario.

13 Q. Okay. Now, I'm asking you about a new 14 scenario. What about other members of the household?

15 A. And, again, when we are reviewing 16 somebody's use of voter data, it's going to be 17 factually based. So I think we would need to get all 18 of the information, and I, alone, would not make that 19 decision. And up to this point, we have not had to 20 do that analysis.

21 Q. Okay. So the answer is that the Secretary 22 of State's Office just can't tell us the answer right 23 now?

1 THE COURT: Well, she can answer the 2 question. So overruled.

3 A. I don't think there is any difference in 4 the scenario you're describing, in that, yes, I would 5 seek guidance from my general counsel.

6 Q. Okay. Let me ask you now about an academic 7 paper that's exploring the way the election was run.
8 So one academic pays for the data, and writes a 9 paper, does a statistical analysis. Then another 10 academic at a rival university, maybe, I don't know 11 New Mexico versus New Mexico State, another political 12 science professor says: I don't agree with your 13 conclusions; you know, I want to write a review of 14 your article. Can I see the data? Okay? So is it a 15 crime -- would you criminally refer the first 16 academic who shared the data with the second academic 17 who is trying to verify his conclusions?

18 A. So, again, I think anyone who wants to 19 receive data, we've established that there is a 20 statutory process in which they need to complete an 21 affidavit. In signing that affidavit, they are 22 agreeing to specific statutory terms that are defined 23 in Article 5. And so anyone that has statutorily 24 received that data needs to comply. And so, in that 25 case, a separate individual, a separate entity would

1 need to also comply with receiving the data.

2 Q. Okay. So the answer is it would be a 3 criminal referral, then, for the first academic to 4 share the data with the second academic?

5 A. Again, if somebody is going outside of the 6 bounds of law, we have an obligation to consistently 7 apply that law. And if we felt that they were 8 unlawfully using the data, we would refer it for a 9 review of a law enforcement agency.

10 Q. Okay. I only have a few more. We could go 11 on for quite a while, but I won't go on forever, 12 okay.

13 Let's say a voter, like the Plaintiff Holly
14 Steinberg here, goes and buys the entire file; hires 15 programmers so she can use the data; runs her own 16 analysis. And then she calls VRF and says: Well, 17 here's what I found. Now, VRF also has the data, 18 okay? But Holly Steinberg shares the data that she 19 has with VRF as part of that discussion. Is that a 20 criminal violation?

21 A. I think my answer will be the same, if 22 you'd like me to restate it. The data can be shared 23 within the same organization. Otherwise, individuals 24 need to obtain that data directly. And again, we've 25 established in prior conversation that that data is

1 dynamic. It is always changing, being updated. So 2 it is very unlikely that those two entities would 3 have the same exact data at a point in time.

4 Q. What if they did have the exact same data
5 set; they both downloaded them on April 13th at 4:50, 6 is it a crime for one to share the data with the 7 other?

8 A. There doesn't seem to be a need to share 9 the same exact data, so I'm not clear as to how that 10 would be a real life scenario. But my position 11 statutorily would not change.

12 Q. The need would be checking to make sure 13 they have the same data. They find that they did.
14 Would the sharing, though, if one still shared with 15 the other, so it's still a crime; correct?

16 A. I think that my answer has not changed.

17 Q. Okay. Finally, what about a company that 18 buys the data, creates a database, and makes it 19 available to political clients for a fee, is that a 20 crime?

21 A. I think that's definitely something that 22 appears to be sharing the data unlawfully. If it's 23 outside of their organization, that is still the 24 issue.

25 Q. Now, we've mentioned the company Catalist

1 last time, the very well-known progressive company
2 that kind of pioneered this. And we heard last month
3 that no one in your office had heard of Catalist.
4 Catalist has been requesting data from you for a long
5 time. And so, since last month, have you done
6 anything to find out more about Catalist and what it 7 does?

8 A. I have not.

9 Q. Okay. Well, do you have any plans to, you 10 know, look into it, make a referral to the Attorney 11 General?

12 A. I think, if we are made aware that they are 13 unlawfully using the data -- so I don't know if 14 that's your statement here today -- but if our office 15 is made aware, then we will look into it.

16 Q. Okay. So other than what we have told you, 17 what's it going to take for you to be made aware, 18 meet the "made aware" threshold here?

19 A. I think you've asked me questions if I have 20 an awareness of how they use the data. I have not.
21 And I have not directly heard from you how they use 22 the data.

23 Q. Okay. Let's take a look at Exhibit P5.

24 MS. SERAFIMOVA: Your Honor, I'm going to 25 make an objection here. P5 is hearsay.

1 THE COURT: Well, I haven't heard a 2 question yet. Let me -- just let me see what the 3 question is. All that's happened so far is Mr. Greim
4 has directed the witness to an exhibit. So let me
5 see what the question is going to be. Go ahead, Mr.
6 Greim.

7 Q. Okay, sorry. I paused to share screen.
8 Okay, I've pulled it up.

9 This is Exhibit P5 that was disclosed to 10 everyone last month. And you've got a declaration 11 from us saying that we pulled this from the internet 12 directly from Catalist's website. So I'm just going 13 to slowly scroll through, and show you what we have 14 pulled from Catalist.

15 Okay. Now, I'm not offering this as 16 evidence to prove up what Catalist does. I'm just 17 offering this as evidence that this exists on the 18 internet, and that a person who requests data 19 constantly from New Mexico, publicly says these 20 things. So not the truth of the matter. It's just 21 that they're saying it.

22 MS. SERAFIMOVA: A couple of things, Your 23 Honor. First, counsel is testifying by saying they 24 constantly request data. There is no evidence in the 25 record about that. Also, there is no foundation that

9 MS. SERAFIMOVA: Okay. Is it better right
10 now? Okay.

11 So counsel stated that this was disclosed 12 to everyone. I want to clarify it was disclosed to 13 me, as the attorney, as a potential exhibit. He also 14 testified which is -- (Zoom audion garbled).

15 THE COURT: Ms. Serafimova, we can't

2 I'd like to clarify it's been disclosed to me as the 4 He also made a statement that Catalist --

5 I'm sorry, I kind of lost my train of thought in the 6 last few seconds -- constantly requests documents
7 from the Secretary of State's Office.

8 THE COURT: Well, I'm concerned that what 9 you're doing here is beginning to coach the witness

5 Q. Okay. And here's what I've done, listening 6 to this, I've pulled up Joint Exhibit K, which is 7 already in evidence. We'll start with that. Let me 8 ask the witness: You've seen Joint Exhibit K;
9 correct?

10 A. I have seen it, yes.

11 Q. And tell us what this is.

12 A. We're statutorily required to log any 13 request we receive for voter data. So this is that 14 log.

15 Q. Right, because it's important for the 16 public to know who is requesting voter data; correct?

17 A. Correct.

18 Q. And it's important for you to know that as 19 well; right?

20 A. It's important that we know who has 21 requested it, yes.

22 Q. Right. Because, if someone who shouldn't 23 have the data or someone is misusing the data, you 24 might make a criminal referral, right?

25 A. It creates a record. So if we are made

3 Q. Okay. So let's take a look at exhibit -- 4 I'm sorry, page 2. This is in two different formats.
5 This was given to us by you. But let me take you 6 down, you'll see about three-quarters of the way
7 down, a Nicole Dunger at Catalist requested
8 Congressional District 1 voter history, and history
9 from 1990 to 2020. So 30 years of data was requested 10 on July the 15th, 2021; is that right?

13 Q. I'm going to go ahead and really enlarge it

15 A. Thank you.

19 Q. Right. They requested a lot of data, 20 didn't they?

21 A. They did request several years of data.

22 Q. Okay. And how much did they pay for it?

5 like 1.3 million voter records?

6 A. Agreed.

7 Q. Okay. And I assume this request was 8 processed; right?

9 A. Does it indicate that it was delivered?

10 Sometimes we don't receive payment, would be a 11 consideration.

12 Q. Okay. Looks like it was delivered by email 13 and Kiteworks on 7/16. Do you agree with me?

14 A. I do.

15 Q. Now, unfortunately, the more recent data we 16 got, they did not tell us the organization. But you 17 see Nicole Dunger appears again here on December 22, 18 2021?

19 A. I do.

20 Q. And she again requested about the same 21 number of records, about 1.3 million records?

22 A. Okay.

23 Q. And it looks like she got statewide voter 24 data. Do you see over here on the far side?

6 Q. Okay. Now, let me go back. Let's take a 7 look at anybody who gets on the internet can pull up

9 "Who we are." It says, "At Catalist you are a

11 participant in the longest running data trust in 12 progressive politics." Do you see that?

9 A. I have not.

10 Q. Do you know if anyone else did?

11 A. I don't know.

12 Q. Okay. Let's go on. It says -- this is the 15 progressives, and only for civic engagement purposes, 16 not for commercial for-profit use. And we are able

1 activists, drive an issue agenda, and register or

3 A. Um-hum.

4 Q. And then it goes on -- there is a page

15 Catalist says on its website is true -- and I know 16 that we don't know that it is, we haven't established 17 that in evidence here -- but wouldn't this sharing of 18 data violate New Mexico law?

19 A. Again, I do not know the details of 10 has that been determined. But any entity that has 11 requested the data should only be sharing that within 12 their entity, within the same organization.

15 A. This is a Help Desk Ticket that, yes, was 16 assigned to Patrick.

17 Q. Who is Patrick?

18 A. He is a new staff member. He's a 19 paralegal, and serves as the records custodian.

20 Q. Okay. So Patrick Rostock got this ticket 21 the following day, on February 16th; right?

22 A. Yes.

23 Q. So then, it looks like March 10th, several 24 weeks later, after having heard nothing back, VRF 25 asked again, "Good afternoon, can you please provide

2 Mr. Rostock; correct?

3 A. Yes.

4 Q. All right. And then Mr. Rostock, the 5 following day, forwards this ticket on to you; right?

6 A. He sent us an email.

7 Q. So let me ask you this: When someone 8 emails your office, do you typically ignore them 9 altogether unless they happen to have an affidavit 10 already filled out and attached to their request?

11 A. I don't think there is a goal to ignore 12 someone who communicates with our office.

13 Q. Okay. Why was Voter Reference Foundation
14 ignored here?

15 A. In this case, you know, Patrick, in working 16 with our general counsel, there was a determination 17 that this was neither a public -- a formal public 18 records request nor a normal voter data request. At 19 this point in time, we had already engaged with the 20 law enforcement agency, and so we did seek their 21 guidance. And at this point in time, it was 22 determined that we were not going to provide data.

23 Q. Why not?

24 A. Because we had already referred their use 25 of the data to a law enforcement agency.

4 A. There is not a statutory provision that 5 requires us to respond in this case. And there is 6 not a statutory provision that says you should not 7 respond. That was a decision made based on the 8 information we had.

9 Q. Okay. So why would having referred them to 10 the AG -- and by the way, the AG had not actually 11 charged them at this point; correct?

12 A. There is no charge that I have an awareness 13 of.

14 Q. So why did the AG tell you not to respond?

15 A. I can't speak to that. I don't know.

16 Q. Who does know?

17 A. The Attorney General, I'm sure.

18 Q. Well, who is the contact -- who did the 19 Attorney General speak to in your office?

20 A. Typically, it goes to our general counsel.

21 Q. So do you know whether there was 24 authorization, here's a link to the form?

1 going to be providing data at that point in time

4 Q. So you say, "based on knowledge it had 5 already been published." So you're assuming that 6 this data would be published, you're just assuming 7 that; right?

8 A. I think that there is currently an 9 investigation taking place, in particular, about this 10 entity. And so we did seek guidance on how to handle 11 this request in particular. And we were provided the 12 guidance, as it is stated in the email, that we were 13 not to provide the data.

14 Q. And you had no knowledge that this data was 15 going to be published, did you?

16 A. Not at that point in time, that data had 17 not been received.

19 this data was going to be published; correct?

20 A. If you're referring to the most recent 22 Q. No, I'm referring to this request.

23 A. So this request does not provide any more 24 information than you've read to the Court.

whether they were going to publish it or not; right?

2 A. No.

3 Q. The answer was just to ignore them; right?

A. To not provide data.

5 Q. Okay. So we'll have to ask the AG why they 6 made this recommendation, and we'll have to ask
7 someone else at the Secretary of State to understand 8 why they accepted this advice; correct?

9 | A. Correct.

10 Q. Let me now ask you about the most recent 11 request that you started to talk about. So about 19 12 days ago you received a notice and a request from our 13 office on behalf of VRF; correct?

14 A. Correct.

15 Q. Okay. Let's pull that up. Sorry, I 16 can't -- I'm trying to reduce the size of this so it 17 makes sense to us.

18 So this is what we marked as Exhibit P10.

22 A. Yes.

3 10 will be admitted into evidence.

4 Q. So you'll see at the end of this letter -- 5 I won't spend time on the notice in the beginning 6 part, but you'll see that there is a request for 7 records here.

8 Now, no response has been made to this 9 request; correct?

10 A. Correct.

11 Q. And there are actually two separate 12 requests; right?

13 A. Right.

14 Q. And VRF here says it is willing and ready 15 to execute the same affidavit that Local Labs 16 executed; correct?

17 A. Correct.

18 Q. Okay. So why has New Mexico not responded 19 to this request?

20 A. Number one, we are still within our 21 deadline to formally respond to this request. But 22 more importantly, this request does provide 23 information as to this information again being 24 published online. And again, as we've established, 25 that would be, in our interpretation, unlawful. And 1 so we cannot conspire to break the law.

2 Q. Okay. By the way, the deadline is 3 tomorrow; correct?

4 A. I would have to confirm.

5 Q. Okay. Well, the deadline is 20 days, and 6 20 days would be tomorrow. I mean, we can be very 7 sure about that, because it's dated May 27th; right?

8 A. And I don't know the details of where that 9 20-day deadline is coming from. I know that our 10 attorney has done some analysis, so there might be 11 some different review. But I personally do not know 12 what that exact deadline is.

13 Q. Okay. Well, tell me this: When does New 14 Mexico believe it's going to respond to these 15 requests?

16 A. I know that our attorney has calendared 17 that deadline, and we will be responding within that 18 timeline.

19 Q. And the response is going to be: No, 20 because VRF says it will publish; correct?

21 A. Correct.

22 Q. Let's look at the actual request. You will 23 see that under number one, we asked for a complete 24 list of any registered voters who cast a ballot in 25 the general election, the most recent one, who have 5 A. What request in February?

6 Q. This is the request we just talked about, 7 Exhibit P4?

8 A. So again, you know, we have taken the 9 position we have not received a formal request, with 10 the exception of what's up on the screen right now.

11 Q. Okay, fair enough. This is the same thing 12 you were asked for in February; correct?

13 A. I'd have to double-check those -- the exact 14 data elements.

15 Q. Okay. You rely on the documents; right?

16 A. Right.

17 Q. Okay, fine. And then the second one is for 4 A. Oh, I see it. I see it.

5 Q. Okay. So --

6 A. That's correct.

7 Q. So VRF is telling you right here that it is 8 not going to publish the data unless it gets relief 9 from a court; right?

10 MS. SERAFIMOVA: Your Honor, may I make an 11 objection on the record? And I'm happy to do it 12 outside of the witness' hearing.

13 THE COURT: Well, okay, we'll take her out 14 so she can't hear.

15 MR. GREIM: You know what, Your Honor -- 16 okay, she's gone. Go ahead.

17 MS. SERAFIMOVA: I mean, I think we're 18 spending a lot of time on this document. But we 19 intend to appeal -- you know, if the motion for 20 preliminary injunction is granted, we intend to 21 appeal the ultimate decision; if it's not in our 22 favor, we intend to appeal. So I want to make that 23 clear that -- and these are factors that I am 24 discussing with their general counsel, who is 25 preparing their response.

1 So this is legal advice. She doesn't have 2 the level of knowledge or understanding to take those 3 factors into account. And what she's essentially
4 communicating right now in response to Mr. Greim's 5 questions is things that she has heard from her 6 general counsel, from myself, in validating this 7 request. So I hope that --

8 THE COURT: Well, I think Mr. Greim has a 9 right to find out what the Secretary's position is on 10 these issues, you know. I guess, if you want to 11 instruct her not to testify and claim attorney-client 12 privilege, then we can sort of explore that. But, 13 you know, people make decisions all the time, and 14 some of it includes talking to their counsel. So I 15 guess I don't think there is anything objectionable 16 to the question. So overruled.

17 All right. Bring the witness back.

1 the first piece is: Do you see that we have said we 2 are not going to publish it online unless we are 3 granted relief from this Court or any other legal 4 proceeding. Do you see that?

5 A. That's for the first project, correct.

6 Q. Right. And so -- I mean, let me ask you:
7 Is the Secretary concerned that we will publish the 8 information anyway, you know, in violation of this 9 promise?

10 A. I'm not clear on what the reference to 11 "first project" is. Is that request number one?

12 Q. No, let's go back. Let's go back and be 13 very clear. So we say there are two distinct 14 projects. It's not really request number one. For 15 its first project, just as VRF publishes voter data 16 for many other states, and as it recently published 17 voter data in New Mexico, VRF intends to publish the 18 requested information online for election-related 19 purposes. So the first project is simply to publish 20 the requested information online, to do what we were 21 doing before. Okay? So that's the first project.
22 And we say we'll only do that if VRF is granted 23 relief in this case or any other legal proceeding.
24 Do you see that?

25 A. I do.

1 Q. Okay. And so I don't understand the 2 Secretary's position, as you laid it out, that you 3 are afraid that VRF is going to publish the 4 information online. And so my question to you is:
5 Does the Secretary believe that VRF will break this 6 promise and will publish the information anyway?

7 A. My response has come from guidance and 8 direction from our counsel.

9 Q. Okay. I'll stop there with that. So you, 10 yourself, don't have any information about why the 11 Secretary is claiming that VRF may publish the 12 information anyway?

13 A. I don't think that statement has been made 14 at all, and I certainly have not made that statement.

15 Again, the request has been reviewed, and 16 based on our counsel's analysis, our understanding is 17 that we cannot conspire to publish this information, 18 because it would be against the statute.

19 Q. And the Secretary will maintain that 20 position even if a court orders otherwise; is that 21 correct?

22 A. I think we will follow a court order, as we 23 are required to.

24 Q. Okay. So for the second project, VRF
25 intends to analyze the records and it will publish

1 its analysis online. But it will do that without 2 disclosing the personal information of any individual 3 voter. This is now in the second paragraph down at 4 the bottom of page 4. So it says, "VRF will comply 5 with this nonpublic disclosure promise for the data 6 it uses on the second project regardless of whether 7 it prevails in the federal litigation." Do you see 8 that?

9 A. Yes.

10 Q. So VRF here is telling you that no matter 11 what, for this second project, we are only going to 12 publish an analysis, and we're not going to publish 13 the voter data online. Do you see that?

14 A. I see that.

15 Q. So what is the reason, then, for the 16 Secretary of State not producing the data?

17 A. Again, given guidance from our counsel, and 18 reviewing of this request, that has been what we've 19 been provided guidance to do.

20 Q. Okay. So to understand why -- so we 21 understand the Secretary is going to say no to these 22 requests. To understand why the Secretary will say 23 no, they're going to have to ask somebody else; is 24 that right?

25 A. Our counsel has provided us guidance that

1 in this understanding of this request, VRF intends to 3 instructed us not to provide the data because we 4 would be violating the law.

5 Q. Okay. But you can see that, for the second 6 project, VRF is not going to publish the voter data; 7 right?

8 A. I can only respond to what our attorney's 9 guidance is at this point in time.

10 Q. Okay. Who is the person who can give us 11 some answers at the Secretary of State's Office here?

12 A. We all received the same guidance. You 13 know, if there is a further legal analysis that's 14 going to be completed, again, we will respond 15 formally as required.

16 Q. Who made the decision not to -- to say no?
17 I understand that legal guidance was given, but who 18 actually made the decision to follow that guidance?

19 A. It was just based off of the attorney's 20 guidance. I don't think there was one specific 21 individual that was in agreement, based on that legal 22 guidance, of our leadership.

23 Q. Okay. Well, who is the lawyer?

1 Q. Was Sharon Pino involved in that analysis?

2 A. She was. I don't know about the legal 3 analysis, but she was part of a conversation.

4 Q. Okay. Well, I mean lawyers give advice,
5 but ultimately somebody holds the buck -- the buck
6 stops here. So my question is where does the buck
7 stop? Who makes the decision to say no?

8 A. And I honestly do not recall one single 9 individual that stated a final decision. We just 10 were all in agreement based on a conversation, and 11 that was based on guidance from our attorneys. So we 12 did not dispute the legal analysis of our attorneys.

13 Q. Okay. So the two attorneys are Mr. Lange 14 and Ms. Serafimova?

15 A. Correct.

16 Q. And who are the non-attorneys who came 18 A. I recall I was part of the conversation, 19 Deputy Secretary of State, Sharon Pino, and the 20 Secretary, Maggie Toulouse Oliver.

21 Q. Anyone else?

23 memory -- I don't recall anyone else.

12 requested information online.

13 Q. Okay. Let's keep reading, though, right.
14 You're in the second to the last paragraph. But you 15 didn't quite finish the sentence there, did you?

16 A. And based on our conversation, the concern, 17 again, was that the information -- there is a 18 potential for the information to be published online.
19 That is the concern. I don't have anything more that 20 I can add.

21 Q. Okay. Let's look closer, though, because 22 you're one of the three people who made the decision.
23 You can either choose to follow the lawyers' advice 24 or not; right?

25 A. And we're --

3 THE COURT: Hold on.

4 MS. SERAFIMOVA: This has been asked many 5 times and it has been answered repeatedly.

6 THE COURT: Overruled.

7 Q. Let's go back to the sentence. Let me ask 8 you, you can choose not to follow the attorney's 9 advice; right?

10 A. Sure.

11 Q. Okay. And the same thing goes for Ms. Pino 12 and Ms. Toulouse Oliver?

13 A. And we are choosing to follow our 14 attorneys' advice.

15 Q. Very good.

16 A. Based upon the position that there is a 17 potential for this information to unlawfully be 18 published online. And, therefore, we will not

20 potential for it to be published online.

21 Q. Right. And where you and I part ways, I

24 inquiry.

25 So I'm going to ask you why you accepted

1 that, when you get this letter from us? I'm going to 2 take you back to the sentence that we just were with.
3 Okay, so we're going to go back to that paragraph,
4 and we're going to keep reading until we get to a 5 period. Okay?

6 MS. SERAFIMOVA: Objection, Your Honor;
7 asked and answered.

8 THE COURT: Overruled.

9 Q. So we say, "VRF intends to publish the 10 requested information online" -- and I'm going to 11 keep reading, okay -- "for election-related purposes, 12 but it will only publish the personal information of 13 voters online if VRF is granted relief in" -- and 14 then you see this case is mentioned there -- "or in 15 any other legal proceeding"; right? So the sentence 16 kept going. Did I read that correctly?

17 A. You did.

18 Q. All right. And so we say we will only

1 proceeding, how in the world does the Secretary of 5 MS. SERAFIMOVA: Objection; asked and 8 A. Mr. Greim, given the conversation and the 11 Q. Okay. And there is no other concern;

12 right?

13 A. Not at this point in time.

14 Q. And by the way, the Secretary of State's 15 Office has not followed up to try to learn any 16 details about these projects or share its concerns

6 A. No.

7 Q. You haven't told the AG's Office that: We

10 A. There are no exceptions to the prohibition.
11 And no, we have not -- I have not directly engaged

13 MS. SERAFIMOVA: Your Honor, may I just

6 Mr. Greim, if you wish to continue your

9 MR. GREIM: Your Honor, I think we're

4 Objection to 5, again, hearsay, and no foundation for 5 its effect on the listener.

6 THE COURT: Well, I'll go ahead and admit 7 those. I'll sort out in my findings of fact whether 8 I can and should use number 5. But I'll admit 3 and 9 4 without conditions. And 5, I'll take it subject to 2 A. Yes. I have received several exhibits.

3 Q. And yesterday I supplemented with the 4 exhibits that plaintiffs added later in the day?

5 A. Yes.

6 Q. And I did ask you to review the exhibits 7 before each hearing; right?

8 A. Right.

9 Q. And I never told you not to read any 10 document or any information; is that right?

11 A. No.

12 Q. Okay. But in our preparation, we did not 13 go over each and every document; is that true?

14 A. That is true.

15 Q. Now, also you were asked about Catalist and 16 why you didn't do anything, or you didn't look into 17 it since last time; correct? And I'm paraphrasing, 18 of course.

19 A. Correct.

20 Q. Okay. Did anything important happen 21 between the last hearing and today's hearing in the 22 world of the Secretary of State of New Mexico?

23 A. Yes. We conducted the primary election,
24 and that was on June 7, last Tuesday.

25 Q. Okay. And was that your primary focus

1 during this time?

2 A. Yes.

3 Q. Was there any reason -- did you
4 intentionally not look into Catalist?

5 A. No.

6 Q. Did you think about Catalist at all?

7 A. To be honest, our focus was on all the 8 tasks necessary to administer the election.

9 Q. And you looked at one portion of Catalist's 10 website, right, not the entire website?

11 A. As far as the exhibit, that's the only 12 thing I've seen of their website.

13 Q. Okay. Now, if that exhibit that's P5 --
14 and we don't need to pull it up because I have a 15 hypothetical question -- but if that exhibit 16 contained language to the effect of: You can see the 17 data that we received from the Secretary of State's 18 Office by clicking here, would that give you concern?

19 A. If they were posting the voter data online, 20 yes, that is concerning.

21 Q. Okay. And that would be unequivocally a 22 violation, in your opinion?

23 A. Yes.

24 Q. And if that exhibit said something to the

1 received from the New Mexico Secretary of State's 3 that unequivocally to be a violation of the Election 4 Code?

5 A. Yes.

6 Q. And if that exhibit said: We, Catalist,
7 share every file we receive from the New Mexico 8 Secretary of State's Office with I360 because we have 9 the same ideological connection, would that be a 10 violation of the Election Code, in your opinion?

11 A. Yes.

12 Q. Okay. But none of that was on there; 13 right?

14 A. No.

15 Q. And you don't actually know what their 16 product is?

17 A. I do not.

18 Q. And you don't know if the database they 19 mentioned contains information from other sources 20 other than secretaries of state?

21 A. I don't know.

22 Q. You have no idea what that product is?

23 A. I have no idea.

24 Q. Okay. And then you were asked another

4 that it would be; correct?

5 A. Correct.

6 Q. And that answer is not dependent on the 7 topic of the first academic's paper, is it?

8 A. No. My understanding of that scenario was 9 sharing the actual data, the voter file.

10 Q. And your answer was not dependent on the 11 topic of the second academic's paper?

12 A. I have no idea what those topics are, no.

13 Q. Okay. So the content of those papers is 14 not relevant to you?

15 A. No.

16 Q. And the viewpoint that each hypothetical 17 academic may hold or express in their paper, that's 18 also not of concern to you?

19 A. It is not.

20 Q. Those are completely irrelevant subjects;
21 right?

22 A. Correct.

23 Q. Now, you were asked about sharing and if -- 24 and let's say, if VRF discusses the data that they 4 we're talking about; right?

5 A. Correct.

6 Q. That statute says: Selling, loaning, 7 providing access to, or otherwise surrendering the 8 voter data, that's our interpretation; correct?

9 A. Right.

10 Q. It doesn't say discussing the data?

11 A. It does not mention discussing the data.

12 Q. So when someone requests voter data in 13 compliance with 5.5, they receive a file from your 14 office; correct?

15 A. Yes.

16 Q. So if I sign an affidavit, receive that 17 file, and then, you know, put it on a Drop Box and 18 let other people have access to it, would that be a 19 violation?

20 A. Yes.

21 Q. But me discussing what I saw in that file 22 and any discrepancies that I may have identified with 23 other people, would that be a violation?

2 Q. Okay. And if I make paper copies of the 3 file, thousands of pages, right, and I just hand them 4 out to people, would that be a violation?

5 A. Yes.

6 Q. Okay. So let's talk about 5.6 a little 7 more.

8 You have heard Mr. Greim express the 9 position that in this case, you know, with respect to 10 VRF specifically, the Secretary of State's Office is 11 now advancing a so-called new interpretation of the 12 Election Code; right?

13 A. Right.

14 Q. And you been employed by the Secretary of 15 State's Office for how long?

16 A. For 11 years.

17 Q. Okay. And during those 11 years, has the 18 Office's interpretation of 1-4-5.6 ever changed?

19 A. It has not.

20 Q. And what is that interpretation?

21 A. So 1-4-5.6 refers to the use of voter data.
22 And within that same section it actually refers us to 23 a section in Article 5 that gives us the details on 24 prohibitions of using that data. And in that case, 25 it then applies to everyone that would receive that

1 data from our office. So we believe that there are 2 some prohibitions identified in the statute for how 3 that data may be used. And mainly, you know, the 4 prohibitions identified in our affidavit.

5 Q. Okay. So that's the selling, loaning, 6 providing access to, and so on; correct?

7 A. Yes.

8 Q. And you mentioned the affidavit, so I will 9 pull up stipulated Exhibit 8, which is the oldest 10 version of the affidavit that we have in the record 11 in this case, if you just give me a second. And 13 8 -- which is coming, I promise -- here it is -- was 14 this the version of the form that was in use when you 15 joined the Secretary of State's Office?

16 A. Yes.

17 Q. So we're talking about this first sentence 18 right here, right, under "Authorization." And that 19 sentence is actually identical in all four versions 20 that we have on record in this case; correct?

21 A. You're correct.

22 Q. So I, A, J, and H. So this language has

2 A. No.

3 Q. In your 11 years, have you ever seen one of 4 these affidavits be signed by a data processor?

5 A. I have not.

6 Q. So data processors are not the intended 7 audience of this form?

8 A. No.

9 Q. So who is?

10 A. Any member of the public that is requesting 11 data.

12 Q. And it was your testimony that this 13 language informs requesters that they may not sell, 14 loan, provide access to, or otherwise surrender voter 15 data; am I correct?

16 A. Correct.

17 Q. Okay. So this affidavit was updated in 20 Q. Okay. And I'll just bring up -- I believe 21 this is the first update, but they're identical. So 22 this is the February 5th of 2022 version; right?

10 receive by way of this affidavit, why did the Office 11 also include it as a separate line item?

12 A. We added that just to provide clarity to 13 anyone that is completing this form, just as an 14 attempt to make sure that we're both educating and 15 providing them clear guidance on what they're 16 agreeing to.

17 Q. And what triggered this update?

18 A. Just feedback and working with other 19 election administrators, specifically our county 20 clerks, they're required to use this form. There has 21 certainly been an increased request for data. So in 22 just using it more and learning more about the 23 process, we received feedback that it would be 24 helpful to be clearer in this document.

25 Q. So did this update have anything to do with

3 A. No.

4 Q. Okay. So then if we can talk about 5.5 for 5 a second, and I'll pull up State's Exhibit 4. Give 6 me just moment. And you're familiar with that 7 statute; right?

8 A. Yes.

9 Q. Here it is. So here is Section 1-4-5.5.
10 Now, does this section -- tell me if you need me to 11 scroll up or down, I know you're familiar with it, 12 but does this section mention anywhere election
13 purposes?

14 A. No.

15 Q. Election-related purposes?

16 A. No.

17 Q. Anything to that effect?

18 A. No. There are just two definitions.

19 Q. So paragraph C says, governmental or 20 election and election campaign purposes, right?

21 A. I'm sorry, I didn't hear you entirely.

22 Q. So paragraph C contains the phrase
23 governmental or election and election campaign
24 purposes, right? We're looking at it right here?

25 A. Yes.

1 Q. And so this is really the only occurrence
2 of election kind of on its own; is that right?

3 A. That's right.

4 Q. And like you stated correctly, election
5 campaign purposes is defined, and governmental 6 purposes is defined. But that's it; correct?

7 A. Correct.

8 Q. So does the Office believe that 9 definitions, which are (e)(1) and (e)(2), that these 10 are the controlling terms, the only defined terms?

11 A. Those are the only defined terms, correct.

12 Q. And is that why you updated the form in 13 2022, in February of this year, to remove "election 14 related"?

15 A. Yes, to align with the statute.

16 Q. Did you also at that time pursue a 17 statutory amendment to take out this term right, 18 "election," in paragraph C?

19 A. We did.

20 Q. Because it creates a little bit of an 21 ambiguity; right?

22 A. Correct.

23 Q. And what happened? What was the result of 24 that process?

25 A. So that provision -- actually, we were

1 successful. It moved forward to the House. It was 2 not considered in the Senate, so it did not pass.

3 Q. Did it pass the House?

4 A. It did.

5 Q. And did it do so on the last day of the 6 legislative session?

7 A. There was a time issue, correct.

8 Q. Okay. So did either of these actions, 9 taking "election related" out of the form and 10 pursuing the statutory amendment, did either of those 11 actions have anything to do, again, with VRF, any of 12 the plaintiffs, the website, this lawsuit, Local 13 Labs, any of that?

14 A. No.

15 Q. Then why did you pursue them?

16 A. Again, in just -- kind of corresponding 17 with any other stakeholders, mainly our county 18 clerks, and just those that are utilizing, you know, 19 this form, and reviewing the statute, we felt like we 20 needed to provide clarity; that that was an 21 unnecessary term that was simply creating confusion, 22 so it was just part of cleanup.

23 Q. And I'm sorry, I moved a little ahead. Are 24 you able to see Exhibit H at this point on my screen?

25 A. I'm still seeing the statute.

1 Q. Okay. So forgive me, let me share that.

2 Okay. So we'll look at Exhibit H, again, which is 3 the version that's been in use at least since 2011
4 and through 2020; right? It was changed in 2021?

5 A. Changed in January of '21, yes.

6 Q. Okay. All right. So this was in use for 7 at least 10 years, starting at least in 2011, maybe 8 prior to that, but we don't know, because you were 9 not in the office before that; right?

10 A. Right.

11 Q. So you see that this form actually has 12 research as one of the purposes; right?

13 A. I do.

14 Q. And I represented to you yesterday in 15 preparation that research was actually part of 16 Section 5.5 up until 2011, when the legislature 17 changed the language; right?

18 A. You did, you did share that.

19 Q. Okay. So yes, this term "research"
20 remained on the form under "purposes" until January 21 of 2021; right?

22 A. It did.

23 Q. When version A, Exhibit A, replaced this 24 version of the form?

4 Q. And that term remained in the form until 5 2022, when versions I and J were put out; correct?

6 A. Right.

7 Q. And this version H, which was in use since 8 2011, also includes "election related"; right?

9 A. It does.

10 Q. And I represented to you yesterday that the 11 definitions for governmental and election campaign 12 purposes were added to the statute by the legislature 13 in 2015; right?

14 A. Right.

15 Q. And yet "election related" remained on the 16 form, again, until 2022?

17 A. It did.

18 Q. So is it fair to say that this form, while 19 it may be desirable, does not get updated the moment 20 that the language of the statute changes; right?

21 A. Right.

22 Q. Sometimes there is quite a delay; right?

2 A. Correct.

3 Q. There was nothing intentional about failing 4 to update this form prior to 2021?

5 A. There was not.

6 Q. Okay. And was the update of taking out 7 "election related" again, at all related to the 8 plaintiffs in this case or this case or Local Labs or 9 anything that we're talking about in this lawsuit?

10 A. No.

11 Q. Okay. And I think -- well, what prompted 12 the specific update of taking "election related" out?

13 A. Again, you know, with the increase in 14 requests for this data, and different entities 15 seeking this data, it was just highlighted as a need 16 to clarify the process and update our documentation 17 to align and to support the statute. So it was 18 really, again, just based on questions received from 19 either a requester, a county clerk, and being 20 reviewed, the documents in the process, and make it 21 clearer.

22 Q. Okay. And, by the way, before I forget, 23 would you say that the term "academic" would be 12 purposes that voter data can be used for that were 13 allowed when this form was in use, and it had the 14 "election related" option, but are no longer allowed

17 A. I do remember. And changing that does 18 not -- did not make any change or narrow the scope as 19 to how this data can be used.

20 Q. Because your office does not change the law 21 by changing the form, by updating the form to reflect

4 Q. Okay, now, you were also asked about, you 5 know, certain paraphrases of this language on your 6 website. And I'm pointing to this -- if you'd give 8 Okay. So if I can draw your attention to 10 "I hereby swear that the requester will not use or 11 make available to others to use the requested 12 material for purposes other than governmental 13 election research and campaign purposes." Okay. And 14 I think this language "will not use or make available 15 to others to use," that was also on your website. Do 16 you remember that?

17 A. Yes.

18 Q. And you were asked: Can one make the data 19 available to others to use for any lawful purposes?
20 Do you remember that?

21 A. I remember.

22 Q. Okay. And now, if I can take you again to

3 A. I do.

4 Q. So would you agree with me that the second 5 sentence under the affidavit is, almost verbatim, 6 quoting from 5.5?

7 A. Right.

8 Q. And then it is -- let me just pull it up 9 again. Okay, here we go. So the first sentence is 10 the one that references 5.6; is that correct?

11 A. You are correct.

12 Q. And then the second sentence references 13 5.5, which has its own mention of use in making 14 available; is that right?

15 A. Yes.

16 Q. All right. Now -- and we just covered 17 this -- you do continue to honor any and all versions 18 of this form that your office receives, as long as 19 they're fully and properly filled out; right?

20 A. That's correct.

21 Q. And, of course, as long as you don't have

24 A. Right.

1 A. Right.

2 Q. All right. So you were asked last time 3 if -- and you discussed this earlier today -- but the 4 question was whether it is the Secretary of State's 5 position that if a requester shares information, 6 regardless of why they do it, they have made a false 7 affidavit, or if they have otherwise violated the 8 law, New Mexico law, do you remember that?

9 A. I do.

10 Q. So I'm going to pull up -- I believe this 11 is Exhibit I -- and this is the most recent -- but 12 again, the most recent version, I believe -- or at 13 least since February of this year, but they all have 14 the same language in relevance to what I'm about to 15 cover. Okay. So this is the February 10th version, 16 but it's recent enough. So under "Information of 17 Requester," it does have a space for "Organization"; 18 right?

19 A. Right.

20 Q. So it presupposes that the requester can be 21 an entity; is that correct?

22 A. Yes.

23 Q. And it can also be an individual; correct?

24 A. Right.

4 And what is your position?

5 A. Yes.

6 Q. And the same for a company, right, if a 7 company requests on its own behalf, meaning they bear 8 the criminal responsibility of an entity, right, they 9 can share internally, but not externally. Is that 10 your position?

11 A. Yes.

12 Q. But if that political party or hypothetical 13 company goes out to upload the file that they receive 14 from you to the internet, that would be a violation; 15 right?

16 A. Right.

13 version of the form is used?

14 A. Right.

15 Q. And you did not deny Mike Lippert or Local 16 Labs' request that led to this case; correct?

17 A. Correct.

18 Q. And, as you discussed with Mr. Greim, up 19 until May 27th, VRF had never submitted an affidavit 20 for voter data; right?

21 A. Right.

8 A. We have not, again, taken a final position, 9 but there is a potential, based on the concern of the 10 data being made public, meaning posted online.

11 Q. And we did discuss -- you and I and the 12 other people that you identified -- we did discuss 13 this request in the recent past -- I'm not sure

15 A. Right.

16 Q. And do you remember that we discussed that 17 some data may be provided and other may be withheld,

12 it, June 28, 2017, a letter from the Presidential 13 Advisory Commission on Election Integrity. Are you 14 familiar with that letter?

15 A. Yes.

16 Q. Does the press release at the end of 17 State's Exhibit 6 announce your office's decision to 18 deny the request for data or documents that is 19 contained in this letter?

20 A. I'm so sorry, Olga. I'll ask you to repeat 21 that.

22 Q. No worries. Sure. Let's look at the 23 highlighted language on the first page. It says, "I 24 am requesting that you provide to the Commission the 25 publicly available voter roll data for New Mexico,

1 including, if publicly available, the first and last 2 names," and goes into detail. So you agree that this 3 letter requested voter data; right?

4 A. It did.

5 Q. And then the press release says, "My office 6 has not yet received the letter. But that being 7 said, I will" -- it goes on to say that the office 8 will not release personally identifiable information 9 and not release any other voter information, like 10 names or addresses "until I am convinced the 11 information will not be used for nefarious or 12 unlawful purposes"; right?

13 A. Correct.

14 Q. So this press release, June 30, 2017,
15 responds to this letter request, June 28, 2017; am I
16 correct?

17 A. You are correct.

18 Q. Okay. And this letter is not an affidavit 19 as required under Section 5.5, is it?

20 A. No.

21 Q. And, in fact, under Section 5.5, you can 22 only provide voter data if you receive such an 23 affidavit; is that right, under Section A?

24 A. It is required, you're correct.

25 Q. So actually, the Secretary of State was 14 Exhibit 7. Give me a second.

15 Okay. Are you familiar with this letter, 16 July 26, 2017?

17 A. Yes.

18 Q. And what is this letter?

19 A. This letter is from the Presidential 20 Advisory Commission on Election Integrity. It was 21 submitted to our office. And, ultimately, it is 22 requesting data from our office.

23 Q. And then we go to page 3, it's a press 24 release dated July 27, 2017. Are you familiar with 25 this press release?

1 A. I have seen this press release.

2 Q. And what does that press release do with 3 respect to the letter that we just discussed?

4 A. Again, this, similar to the one prior, is a 5 response to that request.

6 Q. Okay. And it's a denial?

7 A. This request does indicate that our office 8 will not be providing that data, yes.

9 Q. Okay. And is this letter -- again, is this 10 letter an affidavit, as required under Section 5.5?

11 A. This is not an affidavit, as required, to 12 be able to lawfully provide data to a requester.

13 Q. Okay. So changing subjects, going to 14 Catalyst and I360. I will pull up State's Exhibit 3.
15 So State's Exhibit 3 has four pages, and these are 16 two affidavits by Catalyst and two affidavits by 17 I360. Do you see that? Catalyst, Catalyst, I360, 18 I360; right?

19 A. Right.

20 Q. And these are the exhibits we have for the 21 record in this case. Have you had a chance to look 22 at them?

23 A. I have seen them.

24 Q. Okay. Can you tell us whether they are 25 complete on their face?

1 A. The requests are complete on their face.

2 Q. And do they contain any information to 3 suggest that voter data would be used unlawfully?

4 A. No.

5 Q. And so were they treated differently from 6 anyone else who submits a fully executed valid 7 affidavit?

8 A. No, the data was provided.

9 Q. So you did not treat them more favorably?

10 A. No.

11 Q. And you did not treat them less favorably?

12 A. We did not.

13 Q. Okay. And as you sit here today, do you 14 have any reason to believe that either one of these 15 companies is violating New Mexico law in the way 16 they're using the voter data?

17 A. I do not have that information, no.

18 Q. And if you did, would you report them to 19 the Attorney General's Office for investigation?

20 A. Yes.

21 Q. All right. Now, if we can go to P2, 22 Plaintiffs' Exhibit 2. Give me a second. You were 23 asked, you know, if your office responded to emails 24 from VoteRef, if you remember. So this is one such 25 email. Have you seen this before?

2 Q. Okay. When did you see -- I know it's an

5 A. Oh, just in preparation for the case.

6 Q. Okay. So you see that it was sent December 7 14 --

8 A. I do.

9 Q. -- of 2021? You did not see it in that 10 timeframe, it sounds like? Or did you?

11 A. No.

12 Q. Do you know whether or not your office

14 A. I don't believe so.

15 Q. Do you know why it was not responded to?

16 A. Can you make it just a little bit bigger, 17 please?

18 Q. Yes. And tell me if you need me to scroll 19 up or down.

20 A. No. Okay. So I know that we received an 21 inquiry from a media outlet, ProPublica, and that's 22 kind of where this "discrepancy" comment was brought 23 to our attention. So I think they kind of came in 24 simultaneously. And we did look into the data. But 25 I don't believe a formal response to this email, to 2 Q. Okay. Now, was there an intentional

4 you know?

5 A. No.

6 Q. It sounds like it was wrapped up with the 7 ProPublica discussion or at least -- you did work
8 with ProPublica; correct?

9 A. We did.

10 Q. So you mentioned the discrepancy, and 11 that's the second full paragraph here. Are you 12 familiar, when I say discrepancy, you know what I 13 mean?

14 A. Yes.

15 Q. So again, according to VoteRef, there is a 16 difference between the reported number of voters who 17 voted on November 3, 2020, and then the number of 18 people that were on the file that you provided in 19 April to Local Labs, with an indication that they had 20 voted in that election; correct?

21 A. Correct.

22 Q. And the second number was smaller by 3,844
23 individuals. Is that your understanding?

24 A. Yes.

25 Q. Okay. So tell me, did you look into this

1 so-called discrepancy?

2 A. We did. At the time, I reached out to our 3 technical team, and asked if they could review the 4 data to just kind of confirm that it was essentially 5 based off of routine list maintenance activities.
6 So, you know, I have an understanding of that 7 process, so that was immediately where my mind went.
8 But we did ask the data to be reviewed, and it was 9 confirmed.

10 Q. All right. So when you say "it was 11 confirmed," what was the outcome of that review?

12 A. Essentially, there is a valid reason for 13 there to be a difference in the numbers, and it is 14 not, in fact, a discrepancy or a recordkeeping issue.

15 Q. Okay. All right. And then, if we can -- I 16 can take you to Plaintiffs' Exhibit 4. There we go.
17 All right. And you talked about this with Mr. Greim.
18 But really quickly. So if we go to the second page, 19 he's referring to this February 15th email as a 20 records request. Looking at this email, is that a 21 valid IPRA request under New Mexico law? IPRA being 22 Inspection of Public Records Act.

23 A. It's not a valid IPRA request.

24 Q. Okay. Is it a request under -- is it an 25 affidavit under 5.5 that is necessary to receive

1 voter data?

2 A. It's not.

3 Q. And so, on March 11, when Mr. Rostock said
4 to you, "Per Dylan's contact with the AG, we're not 5 fulfilling records requests from VoteRef." So Dylan 6 is who?

7 A. Our general counsel.

8 Q. So do you know who Mr. Rostock is actually 9 referring to at the AG's Office?

10 A. No.

11 Q. And just to clarify, when you said earlier 12 we would need to ask the Attorney General, you don't 13 mean actually Attorney General Balderas; right?

14 A. I don't. I mean the office.

15 Q. Someone from the Attorney General's Office?

16 A. Correct.

17 Q. And so you, yourself, though, did not 18 receive that guidance from the Attorney General's 19 Office?

20 A. Not directly, no.

21 Q. Okay, he's conveying that to you and to 22 Ms. Pino?

23 A. Yes.

24 Q. All right. So was the fact that this 25 February 15th email is not a valid IPRA request, and

1 not a valid affidavit under Section 5.5, did those

4 A. Correct.

5 Q. Okay. But -- and I'll take you to, if I
6 may, Plaintiffs' Exhibit -- I'm sorry, not 7 Plaintiffs' Exhibit 10, but a document --

8 MS. SERAFIMOVA: Mr. Greim, I want to put 9 your declaration in front of the witness. Any 10 objection?

11 MR. GREIM: No, no objection.

12 Q. Okay. So I'm going to pull up what was 14 wrong -- yesterday?

15 MR. GREIM: It was just served. I don't 16 think we filed it.

17 MS. SERAFIMOVA: Your Honor, may I pull up 18 the document?

19 THE COURT: Yeah, I don't think there is 20 any objection to that.

21 Q. Okay. All right. So the February 15th was 22 not an IPRA request, and it was not a valid records 23 request. But, as Mr. Greim admits in this document, 24 they did submit an IPRA request on April 26th; right?

6 A. Yes.

7 Q. And, in fact, he says that the documents he 8 received were turning to Exhibits Plaintiffs' 4, 6, 9 7, 8, and 9; correct?

10 A. Yes.

11 Q. You didn't treat VRF any differently than 12 you would anybody else who files or submits a valid 13 IPRA request; is that true?

14 A. That is true.

15 Q. Now, if we can talk about the actual file 16 that Local Labs received from your office. That file 17 is dated -- believe it's April 12th, but Mr. Greim 18 said April 13th -- either way, one of those dates; 19 right?

21 reasonable.

23 exactly 14 months. Would you agree with that?

1 A. Yes, they do.

2 Q. How often?

3 A. It's a dynamic file. So, you know, we are 4 either receiving new information or updating
5 information on a very regular basis. And when I say 6 "we," it is really happening at the county clerk 7 level.

8 Q. So is it weekly? Monthly? How frequently 9 would you say? The smallest increments.

10 A. You know, things can be updated every day.

11 Q. Okay. Can you explain to us how that 12 happens?

13 A. Sure. So if we receive a new registration 14 that is something that would need to be processed.
15 During the election, we have the opportunity for 16 registering prior to voting. So that's another place 17 where that record would be updated even during an 18 election.

19 Other than that, we have routine list
20 maintenance activities. So if somebody -- we refer 21 to it as automatic voter registration. So if I make 22 a transaction at the Motor Vehicle Division in the 23 State of New Mexico, I'm offered an opportunity to 24 either register, or in some cases I can provide 25 updated information to my current registration.

1 We also receive regular files from the 2 Department of Health and the Department of 3 Corrections. So if there is a voter that has become 4 deceased, that information is updated, or if there is 5 a either felony conviction or a felony satisfaction, 6 that information is also updated. We participate as 7 a member of ERIC, which is an organization, really -- 8 sorry, a group of states that participate in list 9 maintenance activity.

10 So we share information across member
11 states, Motor Vehicle Division, and voter
12 registration data, so that there is a comparison 13 done. So if a voter has moved across a state, we can 14 do outreach to those voters and ask them to also 15 update their information.

16 And then county clerks can also just review
17 obituaries within their jurisdiction to make updates 18 to a voter being deceased. Part of ERIC is also just 19 reaching out to -- I mentioned cross-state, but we 20 also do review of any in-state potential duplication

2 Q. Okay. And if I may show you stipulated 3 Exhibit F.

4 A. And I was remiss in my list, Olga. So just 5 for the record, you know, we are required to follow
6 federal law. And we conduct a program under NVRA 7 also that will prompt a cancellation of a voter if 8 they have not -- if we've received official mail 9 that's been returned, their record will be flagged.
10 And if it remains flagged through two general 11 election cycles, and there has been no participation 12 by that voter or any update to their record, in that 13 case there is a cancellation process that would also 14 move forward.

6 is, "These discrepancies" -- do you see that 7 sentence?

8 A. Yes.

9 Q. And again, so this is dated December 16, 10 2021?

11 A. Yes.

12 Q. And the data you provided to Local Labs was 13 April of 2021?

14 A. Correct.

15 Q. So a good six, seven months in between;
16 right?

17 A. Six months, yes.

18 Q. All right. So if you read that sentence -- 19 and I'll do it for the record.

20 A. Actually --

21 Q. "These discrepancies" --

22 A. Did you say April to December?

23 Q. Yes. It's more, you're right; it's like 24 eight.

25 A. Yes.

1 Q. So here, Ms. Swoboda testified that this 2 was her conclusion; right? She concluded, "These 3 discrepancies don't necessary indicate fraud, but the 4 differences between the voter list and the election 5 canvass indicates, at the very least, issues with 6 recordkeeping." Do you see that?

7 A. I do.

8 Q. Would you agree with me that this is one 9 example of a person looking at stale data and 10 reaching incorrect conclusions?

11 A. Yeah. I mean, April to December, we have 12 eight months' worth of updates that are not being 13 analyzed and not being included.

14 Q. Then I'd like to show you State's Exhibit 15 8.

16 MS. SERAFIMOVA: Mr. Greim, I know we added
17 it to the list this morning, so let me know if you 18 have any disagreement with me putting that on --

19 MR. GREIM: No, go ahead. We don't know 20 what it is yet, but we've seen it. So go ahead.

21 Q. Okay. So this is just a printout of the 22 VoteRef website, Colorado data, a random person on 23 that database.

24 And so, Ms. Vigil, so this particular 25 person happens to have no record of vote history.

1 But if I can draw your attention to the first 2 sentence. It says, "The information on this website
3 about this voter, including records of this voter's
4 voting history, was provided to VRF by the Colorado 5 Secretary of State on March 29, 2021." Do you see 6 that?

7 A. Yes, I do.

8 Q. So I pulled this up this morning; you see 9 up here, June 15, 2022; correct, and shared it with 10 you. So, as of today, this information is over a 11 year old; right? It's more like 15 months old, more 12 or less?

13 A. It is.

14 Q. And you've looked at this language that 15 they provide, have you?

16 A. Yes.

17 Q. I should ask have you?

18 A. Yes.

19 Q. Does it explain anywhere what this date, 20 March 29th, actually means? Does it say that the 21 data is dynamic anywhere?

22 A. No. It provides the date as to when it was 23 received, but there is no information as to why that 24 is relevant.

25 Q. Okay. And does it provide any information

1 as to what the Colorado Secretary of State's Office 2 does to update the information?

3 A. There is no information that would give 4 anyone on this website an understanding of how to 5 really understand the data.

6 Q. Okay. And then, if someone obtains a file 7 from you, and then decides to -- a voter data file -- 8 and then decides to upload it to a website, could 9 they, in theory, manipulate that data prior to 10 uploading it?

11 A. Just that last part, if you can repeat.

12 Q. With the proper skills, could they 13 manipulate that data before uploading it?

14 A. Sure. I mean, the file that we provide is 15 in a format that it can be edited.

16 Q. And then, if someone were to obtain the 17 data from -- your data from someone else's website, 18 could they then alter it and redistribute it in an 19 altered state?

20 A. Yes. We would have no control, once it was 21 made available online, as to how it was manipulated 22 and then shared out.

23 Q. And again, do you think that could lead 24 people to believe that there is voter fraud or other 25 issues that are actually nonexistent?

5 to the public.

6 Q. And then, if someone obtains -- let's say 7 someone files an affidavit and obtains my personal 8 address, right, and then are they, by signing the 9 affidavit, is there a criminal penalty attached to 10 misusing my address in any way?

11 A. Did you say if I do not sign the affidavit?

12 Q. No. I'm sorry, let me rephrase. If 13 someone does sign an affidavit, and they obtain voter 14 data, is there a criminal penalty that attaches to 15 any misuse of that voter data?

16 A. Yes.

17 Q. And that threat of criminal prosecution, 18 would you agree that, presumably, it acts as a 19 deterrent to the data being misused?

20 A. I think that's a fair analysis.

21 Q. That's the whole point; right?

22 MR. GREIM: Your Honor, just objection, 23 leading; calling for speculation.

24 THE COURT: Well, I'm going to sustain.

1 not by signing an affidavit, not through your 2 regulatory process, but from a website or from 3 someone else, a third party, are you aware if there
4 is any criminal penalty under the New Mexico Election
5 Code that would apply to that person?

6 A. Again, I had this conversation, this issue 7 has been discussed. And my understanding of the 8 legal analysis is that, the affidavit is required, 9 one; but without that, they are not subject to the 10 penalties, the criminal penalties in particular.

11 Q. Okay. If they misuse the data, and other 12 than reposting it again and going under 5.6?

13 A. Correct.

14 Q. Okay. So the same question if someone 15 obtains the data from a website like VoteRef, and 16 then goes on to sell that for a commercial purpose, 17 do you believe there is any criminal liability that 18 could potentially apply to them under the Election

6 A. No. You are required to provide a physical

10 A. No, it needs to be your residential

24 Q. But if someone downloads the data from

6 A. No.

7 MS. SERAFIMOVA: Nothing further. Thank 8 you.

9 THE COURT: Thank you, Ms. Serafimova.

10 Mr. Greim, do you have redirect of Ms.
11 Vigil?

1 was -- we were going to have Ms. Serafimova call
2 Ms. Pino, and then I was just going to kind of cross
3 and direct at the same time. We've got about 11
4 minutes left on our regular prior setting. And so I 5 wanted to suggest this: I wanted to suggest that we 6 just -- I mean, I think we've got a full record here, 7 I don't know what itch we haven't scratched yet, 8 other than walking through the criminal referral.

9 But, Your Honor, I think everything can be 10 handled in, you know, proposed findings and 11 conclusions. And I would like to suggest that each 12 party just agree to admit the other's exhibits for 13 purposes of this, and that we use what little time we 14 have left maybe just for some closing remarks, and 15 then we can submit something to you in writing.

16 THE COURT: How do you feel about that,
17 Ms. Serafimova?

18 MS. SERAFIMOVA: Well, Your Honor, again,
19 the reason we ran out of time is because Mr. Greim 20 promised a 20 minute direct/cross, and took an hour 21 and a half. I have three pages of questions for Ms.
22 Pino. And they subpoenaed her. We had to brief, and 23 to have a motion hearing on whether or not she has to 24 appear. And I think it's very unfair at this point 25 to say that I don't get to ask my questions. We had

4 She's not going to go along with your proposal. Do 5 you want to call her, or do you want to let 6 Ms. Serafimova call her?

7 MR. GREIM: I'll let Ms. Serafimova call
8 her, and I'll be ready to cross when it's time.

9 THE COURT: All right. Do you have, Mr.
10 Greim, any further witnesses or evidence you wish to 12 MR. GREIM: Yeah, the only thing I'd say 13 is, I do have some evidence I want to present through 14 my cross/direct of Ms. Pino. But it will go quicker 15 if I can do those all at once in responding to what 16 she does. Because I think I have less than she does.

7 hear from the witness rather than you. You can make

7 Mr. Greim, if you wish to conduct direct 8 examination of Ms. Pino, you may do so at this time.

9 | BY MR. GREIM:

10 Q. Ms. Pino, what is your title?

11 A. I am Deputy Secretary of State.

12 Q. And what are your duties?

13 A. I, essentially, am also the Chief of Staff, 14 so I run the office, help make any decisions, policy 15 decisions or otherwise, direct projects, oversee all 16 of the directors of the office.

17 Q. Who do you report to?

18 A. I report to Secretary of State Maggie 19 Toulouse Oliver.

Q. Who directly reports to you?

21 A. All of the directors directly report to me, 22 which is our director of business services, our 23 elections director, our director of IT, our human 24 relations manager, our general counsel, and our 25 communications director.

10 A. Yes, the draft was prepared by our general 11 counsel, and submitted to me for signature, for 12 review and signature.

13 Q. And did you satisfy yourself that it was 14 fully accurate?

15 A. Yes.

16 Q. And the facts were true to the best of your

18 A. Yes.

19 Q. And the legal arguments you made in that 20 were nonfrivolous; correct?

19 A. Yes.

20 Q. As of this point, had New Mexico had any

10 A. At the time we wrote the letter, no.

11 Q. Okay. And were you concerned that VRF was 12 about to engage in spreading election misinformation?

13 A. Yes. By placing all of the data on a 14 publicly available website.

15 Q. And so did you believe that the placing of 16 the data on the website constituted misinformation?

17 A. No.

18 Q. Okay. So what was it about putting the 20 misinformation?

21 A. It had the potential to.

6 A. Only the potential that it could be 7 manipulated, yes.

8 Q. Right. And I mean, anybody who receives 9 the data can manipulate the data; correct?

10 A. There are strict provisions regarding the 11 use of the data that you legally obtain.

12 Q. But there was nothing particular by VRF 13 that caused you to think that it was about to 14 manipulate the data or spread misinformation?

15 A. I had none of that information at the time.
16 That's why we made the referral to the Attorney 17 General's Office, so they could thoroughly 18 investigate.

19 Q. Now, by the time of this letter, your 20 office had actually already accused VRF of spreading 21 misinformation; correct?

22 A. You'll have to tell me exactly. I don't 23 know specifically what you're referring to.

24 Q. Okay. Well, we'll come back to that. By 25 this point, VRF had stated in a press release that

1 there were discrepancies that could not be explained
2 between the data -- I'm sorry, the election canvass

4 A. I am aware of a press release put out by 5 VRF. I'm not aware of the dates and how that 6 coincided with this letter. I don't recall that.

7 Q. How did your office first become aware of 8 VRF?

9 A. I personally became -- just from staff in 10 our office making me aware that the data had been 11 placed on a publicly available website.

12 Q. Do you recall, have you ever heard of an 13 outfit called ProPublica?

14 A. Yes.

15 Q. What are they?

16 A. I believe it's a news organization, or some 17 kind of reporter.

18 Q. Okay. Are you aware that they're a 19 progressive media and advocacy group?

20 A. No, I'm not aware of that.

21 Q. Okay. So as far as you're concerned, they 22 have no sort of partisan lean at all; is that 23 correct?

24 A. I'm not aware of that, no.

1 A. Not before this, that I can recall.

2 Again -- yeah, I hadn't.

3 Q. Now, did Mr. Curtas come to you and say
4 that a ProPublica reporter reached out to him?

5 A. Mr. Curtas, yes. We meet weekly, and he 6 did mention that ProPublica had reached out to him.

7 Q. And did you work with Mr. -- I've been 8 saying his name wrong this whole time, by the way -- 9 did you work with Mr. Curtas on his response to 10 ProPublica?

11 A. No.

12 Q. Do you know who reviewed or approved any of 13 his responses?

14 A. No. I mean, I don't -- I think he might 15 have -- typically, when he gets any kind of media 16 request, he'll reach out to staff within the office 17 who might have the information that he's looking for.
18 You know, everyone who is able contributes, and he 19 puts that together and provides the response to the 20 media request. But I typically do not micromanage 21 exactly what his final responses are.

22 Q. Does he get legal review within the office?

23 A. If it's needed, yes. He will usually look 24 to our general counsel, or sometimes to me, just to 25 verify if something is accurate. And I don't recall

1 him doing that related to this.

2 Q. Is it possible he did and you don't 3 remember or you just don't think he did?

4 A. It's certainly possible I do not remember.

5 Q. So after the outreach from ProPublica, did 6 the Secretary of State's Office do anything to gather 7 facts to determine whether there was a violation of 8 the law occurring?

9 A. Related to data being placed on a publicly 10 available website, yes.

11 Q. Okay. And who oversaw that response?

12 A. Our general counsel.

13 Q. And so who is it -- well, let me ask you 14 this: Did counsel for the Secretary of State 15 determine that it was unlawful to place the voter 16 data on the website?

17 A. I mean, the referral was prepared, so, yes, 18 we did make a determination that there was enough 19 there of potential violation of law. Again, that's 20 not for our office to determine. That's why, if we 21 have facts supporting a potential violation of law, 22 we make a referral to the Attorney General's Office

24 investigators in our office.

25 Q. Okay. Well, let's just dive into it. I'm

1 going to turn to the section on criminal violations.

3 A. Okay.

4 Q. And so the first thing that's cited here, 5 the very first thing, is 1-4-5.5C. And you'll see 6 that -- everybody else is very familiar with this in 7 our hearing, but this is the affidavit requirement;
8 correct?

9 A. Yeah, that is how you legally go about 10 making a request for voter data.

11 Q. And the conclusion of your paragraph is 12 that, "We do not believe providing this personal 13 voter data on a private website that intends to 14 spread misinformation about the 2020 general election
15 meets the definition of appropriate use, as either 16 for a 'governmental purpose, election related, or 17 election campaign purposes.'" Did I read that right?

18 A. Yes, that has to do with, again --

19 Q. I'll have another question for you, okay?

20 A. Sure. No problem.

21 Q. And so you've listed three purposes there.

22 Where did you pull those three purposes from?

23 A. Those are what a person has to assert 24 within 1-4-5, as a valid purpose for requesting the 25 information, the voter data. It's what you have to

1 assert: You know, I'm aware of all these provisions 2 legally, and will abide by them in requesting this 3 voter data.

4 Q. Got it. And on the form, at this time, you 5 could actually check either "governmental, election 6 related, or election campaign purposes"; correct?

7 A. I believe so, yes.

8 Q. All right. How was "election related 9 "different from "election campaign purposes"? You've 10 listed them out separately here.

11 A. They're not. I mean, it's essentially the 12 same thing. And when you go to the definitions, I 13 believe -- and I'd have to take a look at the 14 statute -- but there is only the two definitions.
15 There is the election campaign purposes and the 16 governmental purposes. So, in essence, "election 17 related" is election campaign purposes.

18 Q. Now, earlier you told us that you had a 19 factual basis for everything that's put into this 20 letter. Do you recall that?

21 A. Yes.

25 about the 2020 general election." So what

1 information did you have that VRF intended to spread 2 misinformation about the 2020 general election?

3 A. It's only what it could potentially be used
4 for, not information. And as I've stated before, I 5 don't think at the time this request was made, or 6 this referral was made, there was any information 7 related specifically to VRF.

8 Those provisions specifically were cited
9 more for the requester of the data. Because, when a 10 person requests the data, they're signing the 11 affidavit that they're going to abide by all of these 12 provisions. Certainly, if they've submitted -- 13 intentionally submitted a false affidavit, there 14 could be some liability for the requester.

15 Q. Well, at this point, you knew VRF had it up 16 on its website, you knew their identity; correct?

17 A. Yes. And the referral related to VRF more 18 how they were using the data, which is a completely 19 different statute.

20 Q. Well, we'll get to that. My question -- 21 I'm going to stay on this sentence here for a second.
22 How is it that intending to spread misinformation
23 about the general election brings VRF's use outside 24 of governmental purpose? Let's stick with that one 25 first.

1 A. Again, that wasn't my determination to 2 make. And again, I didn't prepare this. But I'm 3 assuming when these were laid out in the letter by 4 our counsel it was simply to cite all of the 5 provisions of the statute. When we looked 6 specifically at VRF, and when I read this referral
7 and reviewed the referral and signed the referral, it 8 had more to do related to VRF with the unlawful 9 use --

10 Q. Okay.

11 A. -- of the voter data, which is again
12 putting it on a publicly available website where it 13 could be manipulated.

14 Q. Okay, my question is different, okay? My 15 question is: What is it about spreading 16 misinformation about the general election that brings 17 it outside of this first of the three uses here, 18 governmental purpose? Why does that not comport with 19 governmental purpose?

20 A. Again, I think that's misciting -- and can 21 I take a look at the statute, because there is a 22 definition of governmental purpose under the statute.

23 Q. Sure. Yeah, do you have it there in front 24 of you?

25 A. Let me get my book.

1 Q. I, unfortunately, don't have an exhibit
2 that actually has the statutes in there.

3 A. The definition of governmental purposes 4 means "noncommercial purposes relating in any way to 5 the structure, operation, or decision making of a 6 federal, state, or local government." So that is 7 what brings it outside of that definition of 8 government purpose.

9 Q. Is it because it's misinformation?

10 A. It's because it's information. And, again, 11 it does not relate in any way to the structure, 12 operation, or decision making of federal, state, or 13 local government.

14 Q. What is this information that you are 15 concerned about? Was it about the voter rolls not 16 being properly maintained?

17 A. I think, as I've stated, if the data 18 potentially can be manipulated in any way that can be 19 utilized to spread misinformation based on the fact 20 that it's been manipulated.

21 Q. Okay. Let's move to the next one -- 22 actually, we'll cover them together, because you've 23 testified that they're really referring to the same 24 thing.

25 A. Um-hum.

1 Q. Okay. How is misinformation about the 2020
2 general election not election or election campaign
3 related?

4 A. Because, again, election campaign, it's 5 essentially the same thing. And that's why election 6 campaign purposes as defined under E, means "relating 7 in any way to a campaign in an election conducted by 8 a federal, state, or local government. So a 9 campaign. Campaign uses, such as: I'm getting this 10 voter data so I can send out information on a 11 candidate or an issue specifically reaching out to 12 voters, it's being used in some way -- or again, to 13 conduct canvassing activities. It's somehow being 14 utilized for the campaign.

15 Q. So is it your position that using the data 16 to talk about the operation of the election itself is 17 not within election related or election campaign
18 purposes?

19 A. I don't think that that's my position at 20 all. That's certainly one interpretation.

21 Q. Okay. Well, I'm just trying to understand 22 why misinformation about the 2020 general election is 23 not election related?

24 A. And I'm not saying that it's not. What I'm 25 saying is what was intended in this letter when we're 9 were comfortable with the legal theories; right?

10 A. Yes.

11 Q. Okay. So I'm sorry, I want to move on from 12 this point, but I want to get an answer to this.
13 Let's just replace "misinformation" with -- you know, 14 let's call it communication of data that you believe 15 has been manipulated, all right? So, first of all, 16 you're telling us that you don't have -- at the time 17 you wrote this letter, you had no information --

18 A. I did not write the letter.

19 Q. So at the time you signed the letter --

20 A. Um-hum.

21 Q. -- right? You had no information that VRF 22 had actually done that; right?

25 looked at the website and put together the letter.

10 statutory definitions of government purpose or 11 election campaign purposes. And that was my

8 A. Yes.

9 Q. So let me take you earlier down in this 10 Exhibit F. I'm going to go to the very first contact 11 that your office got from Megan O'Matz at ProPublica.
12 December 14, 2021. I'm on page 7 of Exhibit 8. And 13 she says, "I'm a reporter at ProPublica looking into 14 VoteRef." And she mentions the discrepancy. And 15 then she has two questions. One, she says, "What 23 about how to deal with this outreach from ProPublica?

24 A. I don't recall specifics. I recall I was 25 made aware of the request from ProPublica.

1 Q. Okay. I'm going to scroll here to his 2 actual response, which comes on Thursday, December 3 16, which is -- and now, we're getting very close to 4 the referral, but still beforehand; right?

5 A. Um-hum.

6 Q. So he responds, "Hi Megan, simply put, 7 VoteRef.com is misleading the public about New 8 Mexico's voter rolls and are perpetuating
9 misinformation." Did I read that right?

10 A. Yes.

11 Q. Having seen this, do you now recall
12 internal discussion among staff about VoteRef 13 engaging in misinformation?

14 A. Not specifically about VoteRef engaging in 15 misinformation. I do recall a conversation about, 16 again, sort of the misreading -- how voter data could 17 be misread, because it is, essentially, like point in 18 time. I mean, it's dynamic. It's changing. There 19 could be lots of reasons why the voter rolls change 20 on a day-to-day basis.

21 Q. Okay. And do you recall discussion in your 22 office about how this was an effort to cast doubt on 23 the 2020 elections, and that they're an affront to 24 our democracy?

25 A. I don't recall that specifically, no.

1 Q. Okay. So you see that Mr. Curtas provides 2 this as an official comment to ProPublica; right? Do 3 you see that language?

4 A. "React to your specific questions," is that 5 what you're referring to?

6 Q. No, it's in the main paragraph. So it
7 says, "These attempts by political operatives to cast 8 doubt on the 2020 elections are an affront to our 9 democracy and the professionals who run our elections 10 throughout the country." Did I read that right?

11 A. Yes.

12 Q. Now, was there discussion about this in the 13 Secretary of State's Office before Mr. Curtas sent 14 this email out?

15 A. Again, I don't recall this specific 16 discussion. I'm sure there likely was. And this is 17 not unlike other requests that we've dealt with since 18 2020, and that's pretty much been our position.

19 Q. Okay. So this is the Secretary's position, 20 and this is your position, too; is that right, Ms.
21 Pino?

22 A. Yes. If there is attempts by political 23 operatives to cast doubt on the 2020 election by 24 either, again, manipulating data, or falsely claiming 25 that there is discrepancies, when there is not, yes,

2 Q. Right. And not just if there are, but the 3 position was that these are just such -- these are 4 those attempts; correct?

5 A. Again, I don't recall the specifics related 6 to the VoteRef discussion or the ProPublica requests.

7 Q. Okay. Let's look now -- we'll drill down, 8 and I'll skip the bullet point on discrepancy. In 9 the second bullet point, this is answering your 10 question about whether VoteRef had reached out, he 11 says, "No, our office has not been contacted by this 12 group to discuss their findings, likely because that 13 would not serve their intended goal of spreading this 14 misinformation." Did I read that right?

15 A. You read that right.

16 Q. Now, is that a true statement?

17 A. You'd have to ask Alex; he made the 18 statement.

19 Q. Is it true that -- well, now, I'm going to 20 ask you whether the office had, in fact, been 21 contacted by VRF?

22 A. I'm not aware that we had, no.

23 Q. Okay. Would it surprise you to learn that 24 they had, in fact, been contacted by VRF to get an 25 answer for why there was a discrepancy?

4 Q. Do you recall any internal discussion 5 asking Mr. Curtas not to disclose VRF's request for 6 information?

7 A. No.

8 Q. Would you be concerned if Mr. Curtas had 9 been wrong; that, in fact, VRF had reached out, he 10 falsely accused them here?

11 A. If Alex, again, made an inaccurate
12 statement publicly, I would always be concerned about 13 that.

14 Q. Or privately to ProPublica; right?

15 A. Even privately, publicly; if again, he made 16 an inaccurate assessment, I would be concerned about 17 that, and I would want us to correct that.

18 Q. Okay. And then, we're about done with 19 this.

20 Where the normal paragraphs start again, he 21 says, "Because accusations from political operatives 22 like this are meant to impugn the integrity of our 23 voter rolls, I'd also just want to note that our

1 follow all state and federal guidelines," and he goes

3 I'm going to focus on the first part of 4 that sentence. What information did the Secretary's 5 Office have that VRF was acting as a political 6 operative and meant to impugn the integrity of New 7 Mexico voter rolls?

8 A. Again, as I have stated, I had no specific 9 information related to VoteRef, or any of their 10 actions at this time, other than, again, how they 11 were illegally using voter data by putting it out on 12 a public website.

13 Q. Why did the Secretary's Office take the 14 position that VRF was a political operative trying to 15 impugn the integrity of New Mexico's voter rolls?

16 A. You would have to ask Alex that question.
17 Those were his words. And I did not review this, 18 or -- I don't micromanage Alex -- or why he would 19 have said that. You'd have to ask him.

20 Q. Okay. So does anybody else know? Would 21 anybody else have approved this language?

22 A. Again, I supervise Alex, and I don't 23 micromanage everything that he puts in an email or a 24 response. We go over generally. And he knows what 25 the position of the office is, broader position on

3 Q. Can people who hear from Alex Curtas, 4 whether it's newspapers or the public, can they be 5 confident that that's really the official position of 6 the Secretary of State's Office?

7 A. The general positions, yes. I am not aware 8 that Alex has ever put out anything misrepresenting 9 the general position or policies of our office.

10 Q. And it's your sworn testimony that you did 11 not consult with Mr. Curtas before he published these 12 statements?

13 A. I don't recall specifically. And again, I
14 wouldn't have -- I know I didn't go over those email 15 responses. But I'm sure we discussed generally the 16 ProPublica request, and what our general position 17 was. I just don't recall the specifics of those 18 conversations.

19 Q. Okay. Well, are his statements at least 20 consistent with your general position regarding VRF

24 about VRF spreading misinformation at the time that 25 this was done.

1 Q. Okay. And my question is not about whether 2 you knew the specifics. My question is: Are his 3 statements consistent with the Secretary of State's 4 general position about VRF and VRF's conduct?

5 A. I couldn't answer that question, because 6 again, I don't think our office has taken a position 7 on VRF or its conduct, other than the fact of what we 8 put in the referral, that we believe that them 9 putting voter data on a publicly available website
10 may be a violation of New Mexico State law.

11 Q. Now, you say "may be." The letter is not 12 that -- the letter is more definite than that, isn't 13 it?

14 A. Yes. I think it laid out our facts and 15 positions. But this is not a legal brief, and we had 16 not conducted any investigation. Just on the facts 17 and information available to us at the time, we 18 outlined the statute that either -- and I believe 19 that there were several potential targets in that 20 letter; that being Local Labs who signed off on an 21 affidavit asserting that they intended to use the 22 data in a certain way. So that could have 23 potentially been a false swearing.

24 And then there was also the conduct of 25 VoterRef, if they improperly used the data under New

1 Mexico law by making it publicly available on a

3 Q. Okay. And Local Labs' false swearing would 4 be that it was -- the data was not used for one of 5 the three purposes that you mention here; correct?

6 A. Under the -- what is it? -- 5.5, and, 7 again, what you have to affirm and swear off in an 8 affidavit of when you request the data, yes.

9 Q. Very good. Thank you.

10 Let's now go to the other -- there is 11 another theory here. I don't want to leave that 12 behind because you've referenced it a few times. If 13 you look in the last paragraph before the conclusion, 14 the very last point raised it kind of stands out with 15 the word "additionally." It's in the very middle of 16 the paragraph. Do you see it there?

17 A. Yes.

18 Q. Referring back to Exhibit C for the record 19 here.

20 And so after running out the other theory, 21 it says, "Additionally, Section 1-5-22A states, and 22 the signed authorization form quotes that" -- then it 23 has a long quote from the statute; right?

24 A. Yes.

25 Q. However, the signed authorization form

1 doesn't actually include that full quote, does it?

2 A. What signed authorization form are you 3 referring to?

4 Q. The one in your referral letter. Do you 5 see after the word "additionally"?

6 A. Yes.

7 Q. Do you follow me? That's the affidavit;
8 right?

9 A. That's the affidavit? Or that's the 10 language of the statute?

11 Q. Well, it says, "Section 1-5-22A states, and 12 the signed authorization form quotes that" -- and 13 then it has a long quote; right?

14 A. Yes.

15 Q. But the signed authorization form doesn't 16 actually have that full quote, does it?

17 A. I'd have to look at it to reference that.

18 Q. We can do that.

19 A. Okay.

20 Q. Let's pull it up. I'm going to pull up 21 Joint Exhibit A. This is the signed authorization 22 form. Let's look at what Mr. Lippert signed. So 23 here's what it actually says. Take a look.

24 A. Okay.

25 Q. Okay. The authorization form doesn't

1 actually have that quote, does it?

2 A. Not exactly, no.

3 Q. No. It's missing all the language about 4 who that applies to; right?

5 A. What do you mean who it applies to?

6 Q. Let's look. The quote says, "Unlawful 7 disposition of the voter file consists of the willful
8 selling, loaning, providing access to, or otherwise 9 surrendering of the voter file, duplicates of the 10 file, or a part of the file by" -- okay, let's stop 11 there. So if you go back to A -- let's go back for a 12 second -- it stops. It says, "Duplicating or 13 alteration of information," and then it says, "As 14 stated in" -- and it just refers to the statute; 15 right?

16 A. Yes.

17 Q. Okay. So the authorization doesn't tell 18 you who that applies to; right?

19 A. I believe -- can I correct what my 20 interpretation is?

21 Q. Sure. Sure.

22 A. So when I'm looking at 1-4-5.6, and 23 specifically it says, "Any person, organization, or 24 corporation or agent representing thereof commits 25 unlawful use of voter data, mailing labels, or

1 special -- is guilty of a 4th degree felony" -- hold 2 on one second. "Unlawful use of voter data consists 3 of knowingly, willful use of such information for 4 purposes prohibited by the Voter Records System Act."

5 So then, when we go to the Voter Records
6 System Act -- let me get that. Hold on. It refers 7 to "unlawful disposition."

8 So, specifically, when I read that, it's 9 saying: If you do it for these purposes outlined in 10 1-5-22, those are unlawful purposes?

11 Now, when we look at -- let's see, Section 12 B of 1-4-5.6, that expands the world of people beyond 13 what 1-5-22 says only data processors, data 14 processors, agents, those types of people. This 15 says, "Any person who engages in that unlawful 16 use" -- that's again, some of which is outlined in 17 1-5-22, which could be "Any person, organization, 18 corporation or agent or officer or representative." 19 So any of those people who use the data for an 20 unlawful purpose, such as the purposes outlined in 21 1-5-22, could be guilty of a crime.

22 Q. Sure. And I understand that that's your 23 theory in this case. That actually wasn't my 24 question to you, but I think we've saved time because 25 I bet that was going to come out on your other

2 But you would agree with me that what's 3 actually in chapter 50 -- or should we call it

6 A. Article 5 does make reference to other
7 people being covered. Oh, I'm sorry --

8 Q. Does not?

9 A. I'm looking at the wrong one. Yes, you're 10 right.

11 Q. What you're saying is that 1-4-5.6B expands 12 what's in Article 5 to cover other people?

13 A. Yes. Otherwise, you wouldn't have the need 14 for the statute. You would just have it in 1-5-22.

15 Q. By the way, did you understand that 1-4-5.6 16 and 1-4-5.5 have both been in Article 5, and were

2 A. Not in this specific one, no.

3 Q. Let's move on. I don't want to take more 4 of our time on this. I do want to ask you a couple 5 of questions.

6 I understand your position is that any 7 sharing of the data by somebody who has requested it, 8 any sharing of the data, outside of an entity or from 9 one person to another, violates this combination of 10 statutes; correct?

11 A. Again, not if it's done for governmental 12 purpose or a campaign purpose that are outlined in 13 the statute or specific to requesters. When you 14 request it, that's what you're saying: You 15 understand it needs be used for this purpose.

16 Q. I see.

17 A. VoteRef was never a requester.

18 Q. I see. So a requester actually can share 19 it with somebody else, but it needs to be for 20 governmental or campaign purposes?

21 A. Those are the appropriate uses for those 22 purposes, yes.

23 Q. Okay. So the problem, in your view, 24 becomes when the person that they share it with for 25 governmental or campaign purposes, in turn, shares it

1 with someone else?

2 A. If whoever the data is shared with uses it 3 for an unlawful purpose, such as the purposes that 4 are outlined in 1-5-22, then, yes, that's 5 problematic.

6 Q. Okay. Well, of course, there are no
7 purposes outlined in 1-5-22, we just agreed on that;
8 correct? There is no reference to purposes in there?

9 A. Or uses. Sorry. If they use it in that 10 the manner, then yes, that's what prompted the 11 referral, and specifically related to the conduct of 12 VoteRef of placing the data on a public website.

13 Q. So, in your view, what Local Labs did was 14 okay, so long as it was for governmental or campaign 15 purposes; right?

16 A. If they utilized the data and had no
17 willful intention to share it for an illegal purpose, 18 then -- it's not that you can never share the data.
19 It's that you're affirming on this affidavit, this is 20 how you're going to utilize the data. And they

1 about that. But that wasn't the purpose of this

3 Q. Right, but --

4 A. If they do it for a government purpose or 5 the election campaign purposes, as defined in 5.5, 6 like if you're doing it within your entity. For 7 instance, we provide the data to campaigns, or to 8 parties. And they are sharing it with candidates who 9 are using it, again, for lawful purposes, then there 10 is nothing wrong with that.

11 Q. Okay. And that's a position of your office 12 as best as you understand it; correct?

13 A. Yes.

14 Q. But the problem here with VoteRef was that 15 it was not using it, in your view, for governmental 16 purposes or campaign purposes; right?

17 A. It was actually using it for an unlawful 18 purpose, which is detailed -- or I keep saying 19 "purpose" -- it was using it unlawfully under 20 1-4-5.6.

21 Q. Right. But you just said in your 5 I may. It misstates her testimony.

6 THE COURT: Well --

7 THE WITNESS: And I'm sorry, I misquoted
8 the wrong statute, when I just stated to you.

9 It's --

10 THE COURT: Hold on. Let me rule on the 11 objection.

12 THE WITNESS: Sorry, Your Honor.

13 THE COURT: Overruled. And if you need to 14 go into it on your cross, you can do so.

15 All right. Go ahead, Mr. Greim.

16 BY MR. GREIM:

17 Q. I do want to let the witness stay -- she 18 said she referenced the wrong statute. I want you to 19 finish, just so I understand, if you don't mind, Ms.
20 Pino.

21 A. Sure. The basis of the referral for 22 VoteRef is the manner in which they used the data was 23 unlawful. And the statute I miscited -- I said 24 1-4-5.6, but what I really meant is the 1-5-22, the 25 unlawful disposition of voter file.

1 Now, 1-4-5.6 certainly links that conduct,
2 because that expands the world to include VoteRef;
3 that you can't unlawfully dispose of a voter file.
4 They unlawfully disposed of a voter file, in my 5 view -- and again, that was the basis of the 6 referral -- when they posted it on a public website.

7 Q. What if the people that are using it on the 8 public website are themselves using it for 9 governmental or campaign purpose? Doesn't that solve 10 the problem?

11 A. No, because they, again, did not have the 12 ability to unlawfully dispose of the voter file, 13 which means willfully providing access to or 14 otherwise surrendering the voter file. And that can 15 be any part of the voter file. And that's exactly 16 what they did.

17 Q. Okay. I'm just going to skip ahead, Ms.
18 Pino. Let's see, I'm going to ask you: Did you work 19 with the -- you're the person who worked directly

21 A. That's correct.

22 Q. And you're also the person who worked or 23 one of the people who worked with the California
24 Attorney General's Office as well; is that right?

25 A. I connected the California Attorney

3 asked to make a connection, and I did that.

4 Q. What was the purpose of connecting with the 5 California Attorney General's Office in a New Mexico 6 matter?

7 A. I have no idea. They reached out to our 8 Secretary, and asked who we had been working with. I 9 guess somehow they became aware that we had some sort 10 of action against VoteRef. So they reached out to 11 the Secretary. The Secretary sent it to me, and 12 asked to make the connection. I reached out to Ann 13 Kelly, and asked her if it was okay if I provided her 14 contact information. She indicated it was. And so I 15 sent them her contact information. And that was all.

16 Q. Why has the New Mexico Attorney General's

22 California AG's Office made a referral to the FBI?

3 A. I saw it in the exhibits in preparing for 6 MS. SERAFIMOVA: Mr. Greim, just for the 9 meant New Mexico Attorney General's Office.

10 MR. GREIM: I did. Thank you for that

13 A. Yes. And I am not aware. I did not have

3 THE COURT: Any objections to those,
4 Ms. Serafimova?

5 MS. SERAFIMOVA: Your Honor, 10 through 6 16 -- we've only touched 10 and 11. Mr. Greim has 7 not even pulled up the rest of them. No witness has, 8 you know, testified, there is no foundation that 9 they're even relevant.

10 So no objections to the exhibits that have 11 actually been discussed with the witness, but 12 12 through 16, there is just nothing on record of those.

13 THE COURT: Well, I don't think that's a

10 Q. And how many of those are in criminal law?

11 A. About 19 of those.

3 A. Um-hum.

4 Q. And essentially incorporating relevant

6 A. The first part up to -- the first sentence 7 up to the word "file," I believe explains the 8 conduct, which would constitute unlawful disposition.

9 Q. Okay. And as you correctly stated, 1-5-22
10 is itself a 4th degree felony, right? Under C it 11 carries its own criminal penalty?

12 A. Yes, it carries its own criminal penalty, 13 but under that particular statute, that's only 14 applicable to certain people. When it incorporates 15 the language into the -- what is it again? Sorry.
16 The 1-4-5.6, in B, that expands the world of people 17 that that conduct applies to.

18 Q. Okay. And so this is where 5.6B comes into 19 play, right, it's any person, any organization?

20 A. Yes.

21 Q. And under B, this is a 4th degree felony;

23 A. That's correct.

24 Q. So it's your interpretation that it would 16 struggling to use Zoom.

17 A. You said C1?

18 (A discussion was held off the record.)

4 A. Um-hum.

5 Q. Did you select that quote for him?

6 A. No.

7 Q. You don't know why he chose that particular 8 sentence, or do you?

9 A. No, I don't. I mean, to me, again, I 10 wasn't preparing this like this was some type of 11 legal brief or anything else. My focus was on what 12 we were alleging, mostly in the next paragraph and in 13 the conclusion.

14 Q. Okay. Let me ask you: What are you 15 alleging with respect to Local Labs in this referral?

16 A. Again, Local Labs, they certainly put in a 17 request for voter data and a request for voter data 18 under 5.5. And they signed off on an affidavit 19 asserting, you know, all of the uses, and it was for 20 one of the lawful purposes.

21 Now, if they knew at the time that they 22 signed that affidavit that that could essentially be 23 a false affidavit, which carries, itself, separate 24 criminal penalties.

25 Q. Okay. So am I understanding correctly that

1 with respect to Local Labs, you suspected there may 2 have been a violation of 5.5, does that sound right?

3 A. Potentially, yes. I mean, again, we hadn't 4 conducted any investigation. Just based off of facts
5 that we had at that time, we were trying to lay it 6 all out. That's really up to the Attorney General's 7 Office to do their own investigation and determine 8 if, in fact, they violated that.

9 Q. Okay. And then you knew, at this point, it 10 sounds like, that Local Labs potentially handed over 11 the data to VRF, is that --

12 A. It seems like, yeah, we were able to trace 13 the specific data that was being put out on this 14 website to the request that was made by Local Labs.

15 Q. And with that action of Local Labs handing 16 over the file to VRF, did you suspect that that was a 17 violation of the Election Code?

18 A. Of them handing it over to -- it 19 potentially -- again, we had no information at the 20 time that Local Labs knew that it was going to be 21 used for an unlawful -- used in an unlawful manner, 22 which, again, if the Attorney General's Office did 23 uncover that, that could be some potential liability 24 from Local Labs for a violation of 5.6. But we 25 didn't have any of the information at that time.

1 Q. Okay. And would you -- given your 2 understanding of the law, would you agree that, if 3 Local Labs sold the data to VRF, they would have 4 potentially violated 5.6?

5 A. Um, potentially. Again, if you are -- let 6 me just look at that again, just to refresh my 7 memory. Because it could be, if again, they did so 8 willfully, because it could be again, 1-4-5.6, which 9 then implicates 1-5-22 that talks about willfully 10 selling.

11 Q. And then in this referral, with respect to 12 VRF, was the concern that they had uploaded the data 13 on a website in violation of 5.6?

14 A. In violation of 5.6, yes, because that 15 involved the willful providing access to the voter 16 file.

17 Q. Okay. Then, if we look in the conclusion 18 section, the second sentence says, "We believe that 19 both VoteRef.com and Local Labs have violated the 20 prohibition against providing voter data by posting 21 New Mexicans' private voting information online, or 22 in Local Labs' case, providing the voter data to 1 was at that time?

2 A. Yes.

3 Q. Would you say that this is, in fact, the 4 crux of the referral?

5 A. Yes.

6 Q. Okay. And then you were asked -- going 7 back to the first full paragraph on this page -- last 8 sentence -- you were asked a number of questions 9 about: "We do not believe providing this personal 10 voter data on a private website that intends to 11 spread misinformation about the 2020 general election
12 meets the definition of appropriate use."

13 Does it matter what the intent of the 14 website is for purposes of 5.6?

15 A. Absolutely not. And that wasn't my focus 16 in making the referral. My focus was, again, the 17 fact that they took this voter file and made it 18 available on a public website, which, again, is 19 clearly against New Mexico law. It's how they were 20 using the data.

21 Q. And given your understanding -- if, let's 22 say, the Democratic Party were to obtain voter data 23 from your office and upload it to their website, 24 would that be a violation of 5.6?

25 A. Yes.

1 Q. And so this clause on the website that 2 intends to spread misinformation about the election, 3 could you leave that out without changing anything 4 about, you know, substantively changing the referral?

5 A. Yes. That makes no difference in any of 6 this. I mean, even if that were not a fact in this 7 case, the referral still would have been made, 8 because regardless of who they are, you can't take -- 9 our laws are highly restricted about who gets voter 10 data and how you use voter data. And that's for a 11 reason. So it doesn't matter who does it. If you 12 get it -- I mean, use it for an unlawful purpose and 13 we're aware of that, we're going to refer it to the 14 AG's Office.

15 Q. Okay. Now, you were asked whether the 21 Q. Is this Mr. Curtas' email address?

22 A. No.

23 Q. And is his contact information listed on 24 your website?

25 A. I believe it is, yes.

1 Q. And, presumably, that's how media outlets
2 reach out to him?

3 A. Yes.

4 Q. So this was not sent -- this email, 5 Plaintiffs' 2 -- two days before he makes the 6 statement, they have not reached out, was not sent to 7 his email address; right?

8 A. That's correct.

9 Q. So he could have been mistaken that no 10 email was ever sent to your office when he responded 11 to ProPublica; correct?

12 A. Yeah. I mean, based off of the things that 13 come into that email, I can almost 100% guarantee 14 that he wasn't aware that that had come in.

15 Q. Okay. And making a mistake or being 16 inaccurate is not the same as falsely accusing VRF of 17 not reaching out; right?

18 A. Correct.

19 Q. And would you agree that only Mr. Curtas 20 can actually tell us what he knew and he didn't know 21 as of December 16th?

22 A. Yeah, I can't speak for Mr. Curtas.

23 Q. Okay, great.

24 And then, I think -- let's see, just to 25 clarify this -- one final -- you did say that --

1 well, let me just -- let's say if the Democratic 2 Party signs an affidavit and obtains voter data from 3 your office --

4 A. Um-hum.

5 Q. -- and it then turns around and uploads it 6 on its own website under 5.6 --

7 A. No. I mean, it can share it with its 8 candidates. I mean, for campaign purposes, utilizing 9 the data; you know, that could be a potential 10 violation of 5-6, if they just put it up on the 11 website. You're making the voter file available.

12 Q. So am I understanding your position 13 correctly that internal sharing has to be lawful and 14 the external sharing is prohibited under 5.6?

15 A. Yes. Because that implicates, again, the 16 unlawful disposition actions which are outlined in 17 1-5-22.

18 Q. Okay. So if two members of the Democratic 19 Party -- let's say an affidavit is submitted on 21 they share the data between themselves for an 22 unlawful purpose, such as harassing somebody's

1 I'm trying to connect what you're saying.

2 Q. So let's say you and I work for the 3 Democratic Party. We have obtained information from 4 the Secretary of State's Office by filing an 5 affidavit listing the party as the requester. And 6 then I say to you: I really want to find out where 7 my ex-boyfriend lives so that I can go harass him, 8 and you give me that information?

9 A. That's not a government use or a campaign 10 use of the data.

11 Q. So that would be prohibited under 5.5;
12 correct?

13 A. Yes. If you're requesting it for that 14 purpose. And again, you're -- it's more relating to 15 the affidavit that you're signing, and you're saying 16 that you're going to do it for a government or 17 campaign purpose, when you know it's not a legal 18 purpose, it's for a purpose outside of that.

19 Q. Okay.

2 A. Um-hum.

3 Q. So have y'all made any other referrals in 6 A. No, these are the only two that have come 7 to our attention.

8 Q. Okay. And did you contact either one of 9 these so-called targets of these referrals prior to 10 making the referrals?

11 A. No.

12 Q. Do you think you treated these referrals in

14 A. No.

15 Q. You didn't, for example, reach out to Karen 16 Clemens and give her an opportunity to cure, as it 17 were, before you referred her to our office, to the 18 Attorney General's Office?

21 we're not going to do anything that may hinder an 22 investigation. We're going to take the facts as we

7 Q. Would you agree -- given your criminal law, 8 extensive criminal law background, would you agree 9 that reaching out to potential targets could have 11 A. Possibly.

12 Q. Okay. So you may have seen it, but in 14 to quote -- like in reference to your interpretation 15 or your office's interpretation of Section 1-4-5.6,

8 A. Um-hum.

9 Q. Do you have any knowledge as to what either 10 company's products is?

11 A. I do not.

12 Q. So if you received information that an 13 entity named Catalyst, LLC, is uploading New Mexico 14 voter data on its website, would that potentially 15 cause you to refer them to the Attorney General's 16 Office?

17 A. Absolutely.

18 Q. And the same with I360. If you believe you 19 had probable cause to refer them to the Attorney 20 General's Office, would you refer them?

21 A. Yes.

1 private; correct?

2 A. Um-hum.

3 Q. And with respect to the internet in 4 particular; is that right?

5 A. Yes, utilizing a scrubbing service.

6 Q. Yeah, could you tell us what you have done?

7 A. Again, those services remove any of your 8 personal data, such as phone numbers, addresses, they 9 get those removed from websites, so that those aren't 10 shared. And I also use a Post Office Box so that my 11 personal address is not on the internet.

12 Q. Are you a registered voter in New Mexico?

13 A. Yes.

14 Q. And, by law, are you able to provide your 15 P.O. Box on your registration?

16 A. No, I have to use my personal address. But 17 I can use my P.O. Box to receive all of my election

4 Q. And so, is there any way for you -- have 5 you looked at the VoteRef website? Have you had a

9 Q. Okay. Let me show you State's Exhibit 8.
10 Give me a second.

11 And I'll represent to you that this is a 12 printout of VoteRef that I created this morning, June 13 15th, at 8:59. And I also went to the Colorado 14 database, and just the first person that came up on 15 the website I opened. And it just so happens that 16 this person -- and I'm not going to try to pronounce

1 A. Okay.

2 Q. So does it provide someone like you an 3 opportunity to request to be taken off of their 4 database or the website?

5 A. It looks like, again, I would have to 6 contact the Secretary of State. I would essentially 7 have to not register to vote; I would have to cancel
8 my registration to vote. Is that correct?

9 Q. Well, the only option is they mention the 10 address confidentiality program.

11 A. We don't have that here in New Mexico for 12 public officials or anyone else.

13 Q. So there is no option for just any -- you 14 know, the only option that they mention is, if you 15 are under the Address Confidentiality Program, which 16 appears to be some sort of federal -- well, maybe not 17 federal, but there is a citation here -- there is 18 some sort of -- I take that back -- program; then, 19 and only then, you can ask to be taken off?

20 A. Yes.

21 Q. And so, now, I voted -- I was a registered 22 voter -- I am a registered voter and I was a 23 registered voter also in 2021. Does that mean that 24 my home address is also on the file that VoteRef, or

3 Q. So for me, if I don't want my actual

5 actually have to move; would I not?

6 MR. GREIM: Objection; calls for 7 speculation.

8 THE COURT: Well, let's see if she can 9 answer it. I'll make a determination of the basis 10 for it. Overruled.

11 A. You would have to move. But if you moved, 12 and you still wanted to vote, you'd have to change 13 your address. And so, then, it eventually would be 14 on there again.

15 Q. And, thank you, that's my next question.

16 So let's say I'm someone who was not a 17 registered voter at the time the data was pulled, 18 that VRF has in its possession, but now -- let me 19 phrase this -- I don't want my residential address to 20 be on any future requests by VRF, and therefore, I 21 don't want it to be on their website for any updates, 22 for example, that they make. If I register to vote,

1 Q. And do you feel that disclosing voters'
2 residential address, in addition to the party
3 affiliation on a public website would negatively 4 affect the system, our voting system?

5 MR. GREIM: Your Honor, this calls for 6 personal opinion and speculation.

7 THE COURT: Well, it may be limited to 8 that, and it may not have much value, but I'll allow 9 the question. Overruled.

10 A. Yes. I think it could be very harmful. I 11 think it could cause people to not want to 12 participate in the process, if, again, they know 13 their information, private information, is out there, 14 and, you know, losing confidence in, again, how their 15 data is kept.

16 I think, case in point is our second
17 referral to the Attorney General's Office. Voter 18 files were shared, and then so-called volunteers went 19 door to door interrogating voters about their 20 participation in the process. That has a chilling 21 effect, where people don't want to participate and 22 don't want to vote.

1 REDIRECT EXAMINATION

2 BY MR. GREIM:

3 Q. Ms. Pino, I just want to understand the 4 Secretary's position on the sharing of data, and when 5 it's allowed and when it's not allowed, because, 6 candidly, I think heard a different answer on direct 7 versus on cross.

8 A. Okay.

9 Q. So I think the best way to approach it is 10 just through a hypothetical. I understood you to 11 answer my questions about this topic to say that it 12 is not automatically a crime for one entity to share 13 data with another entity so long as the purpose of 14 that sharing falls within one of those -- however 15 count -- either two or three criteria. Am I right 16 about that?

17 A. I think that examples that I was giving was 18 sort of individuals within the entity, like again, 19 the Democratic Party sharing it with candidates who 20 are -- but again, if you're doing so for one of the 21 stated purposes --

22 THE COURT: Hold on just a second. We've 23 got somebody has called in and they've not muted 24 their phone. All right. Is it muted now?

25 Okay. Go ahead, Ms. Pino.

1 A. Again, it would have to fall within the 2 provisions of 5.5. So I don't think 5.5, when you
3 say that you're going to request the data -- I think 4 it can be shared, but again within your entity and 5 for some of this stated purposes like campaign 6 purposes -- election campaign purposes or 7 governmental purposes.

8 Q. Okay. Now, a political party and a 9 candidate's campaign are not the same entity, are 10 they?

11 A. A political party and candidates within 12 that party are -- they're, in essence, part of the 13 Democratic Party, so yes, it can be shared with 14 candidates.

15 Q. Okay. So that's the position of the 16 Secretary of State's Office?

17 A. Yes.

18 Q. Okay. But what about a political party and 19 a candidate in an Independent Party they may be 20 supporting for various reasons? If the candidate is 21 in a different party, now we have a crime?

22 A. Again, if the candidate is within a 23 different party, they can request the data themselves 24 under 5.5, because they are one of the entities that 25 would be entitled to request the data.

4 A. Within the entity and for the stated 5 purposes. I think the example was also given, if 6 it's going to be for some kind of unlawful purpose, 7 such as harassing, that then, essentially -- and 8 you've requested the data -- then you've sworn off on 9 that affidavit and you haven't been truthful.

10 Q. You testified that this -- I'm not sure 11 what your testimony was ultimately on this Safe at 12 Home Program. But I think at least you said it's not 13 available in New Mexico; correct?

14 A. We do have Safe at Home. Not for 15 political -- like political figures. It doesn't 16 apply to -- it's specifically for victims of domestic

20 A. No.

21 Q. But it could, if it wanted to, right; it 22 just hasn't?

23 A. Yeah, it hasn't.

2 All right. Ms. Pino, you may step down.

3 Is there any reason that Ms. Pino cannot be excused

1 first, I want to go through and kind of walk through 2 some of the facts. I'll then step back and take a 3 look at the two main legal theories here. I want to 4 make clear at the outset that the main theory in this 5 case is going to be our overbreadth theory. You'll 6 see why as we get into the facts here in a moment.
7 But while I think there is obvious evidence of 8 viewpoint discrimination, I think that the 9 overbreadth will be the main issue.

10 So the first issue, just to walk through 11 the timeline, you know, Exhibit A shows that way back 12 on March 29th of last year Local Labs signed an 13 affidavit. And, you know, the language is very 14 clear. It simply does not state -- does not make the 15 promise that we've heard from the defendants here.
16 It says, "Requester will not use or make available to 17 others to use the requested material for purposes 18 other than governmental, election, research, and 19 campaign purposes, under penalty of law." That is 20 the promise that's made there.

21 It doesn't say you can't make it available
22 to use for others to use at all. It says it's going 23 to have to be for these three purposes. We'll come 24 back to that.

25 Fast-forward to December 16th, the New

1 Mexico data goes live. What do users see? We heard 2 about that last month. They see that this is an 3 election-related use. They see that Local Labs is 4 the one that went and got it. The entire chain of 5 custody, how we received the information is available
6 to people who are interested in that by clicking 7 directly on the website. Everybody who views it has 8 to click that they're going to use it for an 9 election-related use. That's December 16th.

10 Now, two days before that -- looks like 11 we're out of order here a little bit; we're all in 12 mid December. Two days before that, VRF had done its 13 analysis. It contacted the SOS, Secretary of State 14 regarding this discrepancy.

15 Now, VRF did not claim that it meant that 16 the Secretary of State had screwed up or made a 17 mistake. VRF wanted to know why the difference is 18 there. VRF well knows the difference occurs for a 19 variety of factors, but it wanted to see the 20 reconciliation to understand: Okay, have you kept a 21 record of the people who have been removed, and why, 22 asked that question. The Secretary never responds.

23 Here's what we learned today, though. We 24 learned that -- we learned from Ms. Vigil that the 25 Director of Elections knew about that request and

1 knew about the ProPublica contact, and sort of 2 decided to handle them together. And because they 3 were somehow handling them together, they kind of 4 figured they were covered if they responded to 5 ProPublica and did not respond to VRF.

6 So the evidence today was not that no one
7 at the Secretary knew about it. The Secretary's 8 Office did know about the request, and just chose -- 9 supposedly not deliberately -- but chose not to 10 respond to VRF.

11 MS. SERAFIMOVA: I hate to interrupt, but I
12 have to object. That is not what the evidence shows.
13 For the record, I object.

14 THE COURT: No, that's not the way it
15 works. You let him make his argument, and you can 16 respond in a moment.

17 Go ahead, Mr. Greim.

18 MR. GREIM: So VRF issues its press
19 release. It doesn't accuse anyone of fraud, but does 20 indicate issues with recordkeeping.

21 That same day ProPublica then approaches 22 the Secretary of State and asks for comment. And 23 that's where you see the Secretary of State, not just 24 saying: We don't have any record of a response, it 25 affirmatively accuses VRF of being a political

1 provocateur, and trying to spread misinformation, and 2 having a reason for not reaching out.

3 So, rather than assuming something innocent
4 or just saying: We don't have any record, the SOS
5 doubled down, and used it against VRF in a public 6 comment.

7 More evidence here of the animus that's 8 building up during this time. On December 21 -- this 9 is Plaintiffs' Exhibit 7 -- Curtas sends the criminal 10 referral. And we just heard today from Ms. Pino that 11 now this is not really very important. This could 12 have just been taken out of the referral altogether.
13 But he says that "this is the crux," and he goes to 14 the spreading of misinformation.

15 You can see, and in our proposed findings
16 we'll show you all the emails from Mr. Curtas attacks
17 VRF in mid December here. This is without any effort 18 to reach out, any effort to find out what's going on, 19 and again, not responding to the request for 20 information, even though Ms. Vigil said that they 21 were taking these issues together.

22 Okay, December 21, the referral goes out.
23 And again, it's all about "swift action is needed 24 here," don't take your time, don't review all the 25 facts. Move swiftly, Attorney General, because this

1 voter data can be used to spread election
2 misinformation.

3 Now, ProPublica interestingly receives that 4 referral the day it was made. VRF just received it 5 as we were getting into this lawsuit and asked for 6 it. It did not receive it this entire time.

7 Okay. Now we fast-forward to February of 8 this year. There were major changes in the forms 9 that the Secretary of State's Office used. We heard 10 all kinds of testimony, over two days, about why the 11 changes were made. Supposedly, it's just a 12 coincidence, statutes change. We take our time, and 13 we just happened to do it right during the time that 14 we are going after a group, and our theory is based 15 on the use that they make of the data.

16 Now, we have the changes here, Your Honor.
17 I've made a little comparison of Exhibit A, which is 18 what our guy signed, and Exhibit J, what the 19 current -- the current form of the request is. And 20 it's true the statement that: Unlawful use of the 21 information requested on this form shall consist of, 22 basically, various kinds of transfer, as stated in 23 the Voter Records System Act, which is Chapter 5.
24 That appears in both. But what that means is very, 25 very different in each form.

1 In Exhibit A, when you finally actually
2 swear to something and click the affidavit, you swear 3 that you will not use or make available to others to 4 use requested material for purposes other than 5 governmental, election -- and used to say research -- 6 and campaign purposes under penalty of law. That is 7 the statement that you aver.

8 The statement that you aver today is 9 different. Under the new statement you can't sell, 10 loan, or provide access to anyone. You just can't do 11 it, regardless of the purpose. That's the very first 12 checkmark. Then they have other things in there 13 about altering information, using it for a purpose 14 other than those authorized on this form, or using it 15 for any commercial purpose.

16 So what they've done -- this is a very 17 savvy change -- but if they don't want people sharing 18 it with others for permissible purposes, what you 19 would do is you would create the new authorization 20 that they've made. So they have changed the form to 21 meet their new theory. The key sentence has changed.

22 Before I move on, I'll just mention the old 23 sentence, which has never changed, the key issue 24 there is the authorization does not say the unlawful 25 use of information requested on this form shall

1 consist of various forms of transfer, and then stop.
2 It says, "as stated in the Voter Records System Act."
3 It refers the interested reader back to the statutes.
4 It's not all transfer, selling, loaning, providing 5 access to that is a problem. It's the selling, 6 loaning, or providing access to, as stated in the 7 Voter Records System Act. And when you look at that 8 act, the only statute in Chapter 5 there is 1-5-22.
9 And that clearly only applies to data processors and 10 government entities themselves, not to groups like 11 us.

12 I know we're getting into statutory 13 arguments that we kind of discussed last time, but 14 that is clearly what that sentence means. Article 5 15 does not talk about anything else. So there is no 16 notice provided here. There is nothing that goes 17 beyond the law on Exhibit A. Exhibit J does.

18 Okay. So that's what's happened, we've had 19 a change. Now what happens in March. Things begin 20 to heat up. We begin to get a press campaign against 21 VRF. So, on March 4th, Curtas tells the Alamogordo 22 Daily News, "If any organization requested and 23 received voter data or made available to a third 24 party for an unlawful purpose, we intend to make a 25 criminal referral, as we have against other nefarious

1 actors." The only person he's referring to in this 2 space here is VRF. Again, VRF is being called a 3 nefarious actor. They're upping the rhetoric against 4 VRF.

5 The article in ProPublica runs only three 6 days later. Again, what does the Secretary of State 7 say? She says that having voter registration data 8 blast out across the internet violates state law, 9 limiting use of voter rolls solely for campaign or 10 government activities. We looked at that evidence 11 before.

12 Her tweets that went out around that same 13 time, on March 8, says that this is a coordinated 14 cross-country attempt to impugn the integrity of our 15 voter rolls. Again, this is dripping with animas 16 against VRF. She's not claiming there is any actual 17 problem with the voter rolls; instead, it's about 18 impugning the integrity. In other words, work being 19 done by her office to preserve the voter rolls, 20 that's the problem. It's unfair criticism. And this 21 goes along with their entire sort of mantra about 22 misinformation. There is other evidence of that back 23 on February 9th.

24 We also saw that, you know, what the office
25 says about use is also rather unclear. On March 2nd

1 they issue a public statement suggesting that really 2 it's limited to only certain groups. And they say
3 this Audit Force is not one of those groups.

4 Then later we hear, the very next day, that 5 really it's about using it for campaign or government 6 academic purposes, and signing an affidavit. So any 7 person trying to follow this is getting mixed 8 messages about what really is covered here.

9 Okay. Now, let's go to the legal issues, 10 Your Honor. Five different theories apply. I'm 11 going to make clear -- because we had an issue about 12 this at our last hearing -- we're not relying here on 13 retaliation as a grounds for, you know, issuing the 14 injunction. But certainly, it's going to be a very 15 big part of this case as we go forward.

16 I'm going to first focus on overbreadth.
17 We know the three elements of overbreadth. And the 18 first element is easily met. The defendants don't 19 have a problem with us here on this point: Sharing 20 data is speech, and they concede that this is a 21 direct regulation of speech.

22 We distributed a list of their concessions
23 at the last hearing, and that's in the pleading. So 24 we're in the realm of speech.

25 The next question is a total ban. This is

1 a total ban on sharing from entity to entity. They 2 conceded that you can share within an entity, but I 3 think we all sort of assume that; we all hope that's 4 true. So the question is: Is the reach of the total 5 ban substantial, judged in its relation to the claim 6 of legitimate sweep of any sort of ban.

7 Now, for purposes of this argument, Your 8 Honor, we want to assume that a statute could 9 limit -- could limit commercial purposes; people 10 taking the data from the Secretary of State and going 11 and using it just to make money for commercial 12 purposes or for some of the other things we heard 13 about: If you wanted to go harass people. You can 14 imagine totally legitimate sweep of some sort of 15 restriction on sharing.

16 But here is the key: Both defendants, Ms.
17 Vigil for the Secretary of State, and Ms. Serafimova
18 who actually kind of -- I mean, I don't want to use 19 the word wrong here, but she basically testified and 20 said in her opening statement last time: This is the 21 position of the Attorney General. Both of them have 22 said that any sharing is going to be sanctionable.

23 Now, Ms. Vigil, backtracked on that today, 24 and she mentioned -- she says they're not statutory 25 exceptions, but they are exceptions. She would allow

1 some of it. We don't know what the reach of these 2 exceptions are. But it's very clear. So her 3 testimony before was that -- and it's from a clip in 4 here -- and we'll make this available afterwards, by 5 the way, Your Honor, for your reference, if you'd 6 like -- that any sharing is going to be a problem
7 under the statute. And we heard the same thing today 8 minus her new exceptions.

9 The AG has said the same thing. Through 10 Ms. Serafimova, she said, "I've stated many times on 11 the record, including in pleadings, that it is the 12 AG's position, as a party in this case, that if there 13 is any criminal liability, it is not for violating 14 the so-called use restrictions in 5.5. It is for 15 providing or otherwise providing access or otherwise 16 surrendering or selling or lending the voter data 17 under 1-4-5.6."

18 So both of them have been very clear that 19 it is all sharing that they are banning here. So 20 now, you know, it did not look that way when we filed 21 the lawsuit based on everything we learned about 22 their animus and their motivation. But they've been 23 very clear in this case, minus the hedging from 24 Ms. Vigil, that sharing is going to be what they say 25 the problem is.

1 But the problem is, Your Honor, it's a
2 matter of out of the frying pan and into the fire.
3 Because banning all sharing is vastly overbroad. For 4 example -- and we went through some of these 5 hypotheticals -- the sheer number of criminal 6 violations that could occur for purely legitimate 7 First Amendment protected conduct is massive. For 8 example, voters cannot band together to share the 9 data with each other. Each has to pay for the data, 10 and then refrain from sharing with any other person 11 who checks their work or compare notes.

12 Because remember Ms. Vigil said: Look out, 13 because there is a great chance that your data was 14 pulled not at exactly the same time, it's a different 15 data set, therefore, they're different data. If 16 you're sharing what you have with a different voter 17 who has also paid for it, you may be sharing data, 18 and that's a problem. And so that very innocent 19 activity right there is going to violate the statute.

20 Now, we heard that parties sharing with 21 candidate campaigns of the party's candidates are 22 okay. We actually heard that today. Both witnesses 23 came around to that position on the theory that a 24 candidate affiliates with a party, so they're all 25 going to be treated together.

1 But, Your Honor, we know that is a rather 2 arbitrary -- good thing to know, but it just comes 3 out of someone's mouth at a hearing. We know that 4 the Campaign Finance Law doesn't treat them the same.
5 We know the Campaign Finance Law treats a party, 6 organization, and a candidate campaign as two 7 different people.

8 In fact, at the federal level we have 9 really big problems, Your Honor, because we can have 10 coordination, and we've got to be careful about that.
11 We've got affiliated PACs, and other things as well.
12 So it's cold comfort to hear at this hearing two 13 witnesses say that. But notice how that protection 14 immediately evaporates if, say, the Republican Party 15 doesn't have a good candidate, but there's a good 16 Libertarian candidate, they want to work with that 17 person for purposes of the election. No. Now, it 18 becomes a criminal activity because it's a 19 Libertarian instead of Republican. There is no 20 rational reason for that whatsoever.

21 For example, the Otero example: There, we 22 had the Republican Party sharing with a group that 23 may have been allied. But just the sheer act of 24 sharing with this group that's going to go, then, do 25 a canvass is its own independent violation, separate

1 from these claims about harassment. A candidate
2 campaign cannot share with an allied campaign. You 3 heard that.

4 Political firms sharing with clients, you
5 heard a lot of waffling, and really lack of interest 6 in exactly what Catalyst is doing. But if they are 7 selling their data, or sharing it under some wrapped 8 fee or something, they're sharing their data with 9 their clients. That's a violation, too. And there 10 are several of these firms that have always been 11 requesting from the state. There has been no effort 12 at all to try to learn more about it.

13 So what the Secretary really wants here, 14 Your Honor, to step back from all these examples, the 15 Secretary wants to be the hub of all this speech that 16 occurs about this data. The Secretary wants everyone 17 else to be a spoke out from the hub. And the 18 Secretary does not want any spokes coming together to 19 share the data and talk about what they have. And 20 it's not just discussion. Discussion quickly ends up 21 requiring that you share the data you actually have.
22 You know, I've got 5,400 discrepancies. Well, I've 23 got 4,200 discrepancies. You have to share that data 24 to understand what you're talking about.

25 THE COURT: Is there any distinction

1 between sharing data and publishing it? And why
2 shouldn't the Court draw that distinction?

3 MR. GREIM: I don't think there is any 4 distinction, Your Honor. I mean, the statute
5 certainly doesn't make that distinction. And, you 6 know, when you publish the data, you are inviting 7 other people in to look at it and use it for the 8 purpose that you've required them to follow. And so 9 I don't think we can -- when we've got such an 10 overbroad statute, which this is -- I don't think we 11 can say: Well, some of these applications of this 12 overbroad statute are closer to something that I feel 13 good about. You know, you're out here publishing it, 14 instead of just sharing it, therefore, we deny the 15 claim.

16 With an overbreadth claim, we can't do it 17 that way. In fact -- and I'll say this is our 18 position here, but with an overbroad usage customer 19 rule, here you don't have to be within the protected 20 zone to have standing to make the challenge.

21 But I also don't think that there is a 22 distinction there, because both of these are speech.
23 They are both speech. They're both protected 24 activity.

25 I also want to point out, banning all

1 sharing is just not necessary. Nothing is stopping 2 the state from enacting a statute to allow 3 prosecution of a use that could be constitutionally 4 prohibited.

5 Now, the state hasn't drawn its statutes up 6 that way. But for purposes of a federal 7 constitutional analysis, we are not stuck with the 8 particular mishmash of statutes that have evolved 9 over time in New Mexico, for purposes of deciding 10 whether there is a narrow fit. In fact, if the 11 statutes don't really cover the harm well, that goes 12 to the lack of a narrow fit.

13 So this, kind of,
14 everyone-signs-an-affidavit-and-then-they-get-prosecu 15 ted-for-a-false-affidavit system, is probably the 16 most unwieldy way you could try to protect people.

17 Something else you could do: You know, you 18 could require that providers of data give notice to 19 everyone of New Mexico's restrictions, which VRF does 20 on its website -- or did before it pulled down New 21 Mexico. In fact, that is one of the uses, 22 supposedly, of the affidavit is that people then see, 23 oh, these are the requirements that face me here.

24 The problem is that the affidavits have 25 changed in New Mexico. They are completely

1 inconsistent. And New Mexico claims that they're all 2 still accurate.

3 Sharers of data could be required to 4 collect identifying information on users, and then 5 provide those to authorities in the event of an 6 investigation. So let's say that VRF is out there, 7 you know, sharing its data; it's finding problems in 8 the voter data, sending it to the Secretary of State, 9 making corrections. But then one day suddenly some 10 commercial vendor, you know, sends a solicitation to 11 everyone on the voter data list. They've somehow 12 found a way to scrape it and send it out, as one of 13 the users who clicked on and said they would just use 14 it for a good use. Okay. Well, what you could do in 15 that case is say: Well, VRF, we think it came from 16 you. Can you please send us the people who have 17 accessed it. And anyone, you know, who is given 18 notice, as you are required to do, and failed to 19 comply with that notice, can be prosecuted. You 20 don't have to prove a false affidavit at that point.

21 THE COURT: Mr. Greim, we've been going 22 another hour and a half. I need to give Ms. Bean a 23 break to rest her fingers. So we'll be in recess for 24 about 15 minutes.

25 MR. GREIM: Okay. Thank you, Your Honor.

1 (The Court stood in recess.)

2 THE COURT: All right. Mr. Greim, if you
3 wish to continue your closing argument, you may do so 4 at this time.

5 MR. GREIM: Thanks, Your Honor. And I
6 think I have about probably about 10 minutes left at 7 most here.

19 So, in short, a complete ban is not 20 necessary to meet any legitimate state interest here.
21 There are things short of that that would be covered, 22 that would not sweep out and criminalize such vast 23 realms of protected activity.

24 So, Your Honor, that's our main theory.

25 I do want to go to kind of our next point,

1 though. This was our original theory when we first 2 got the documents, before we learned about this sort 3 of change in position. And this is really a content 4 or a viewpoint based ban. The claim that the 5 defendants are merely enforcing the plain language of 6 the statute, which purportedly criminalizes all 7 sharing is a recent fabrication that happened in this 8 case.

9 First, the statutory analysis is simply 10 incorrect, as we've already covered sort of ad 11 nauseam.

12 Second, even if that statutory analysis was 13 correct, then a large swath of current uses are 14 criminal, but are going unpunished and 15 uninvestigated, while the AG refers VRF, meanwhile, 16 to the FBI, and as we'll see in other exhibits we did 17 not get into today, confers with the California AG on 18 other projects apparently related to VRF.

19 This is contradicted also by the forms,
20 including by the Local Labs form that was signed, 21 that set up a different system.

22 And finally, the forms were changed
23 recently, and just before the story broke.

24 Now, if we do have a direct restriction on 25 speech, which the Secretary of State admits, then it

1 applies to particular speech because of content or a 2 viewpoint expressed, including the purpose-based 3 restrictions. So we cited two cases before on those.
4 I just included them here. Again, the evidence here
5 is very, very strong. The Secretary of State clearly 6 referred to VRF, because it believed this was 7 misinformation, and was not government related. We 8 heard that from Ms. Pino before she was able to take 9 her first break in her testimony.

10 THE COURT: Now, if you're intending for me 11 to be looking at a PowerPoint, it's not up. Do you 12 know that?

13 MR. GREIM: No, Your Honor, I failed to 14 share it. Thank you for the alert. Okay. It should 15 be up now. Okay. All right. Very good.

16 And so we learned, Your Honor, that 17 misinformation truly was the issue here. Pino 18 testified that even though she doesn't have the 19 information about what the misinformation was, that 20 if the allegations about VRF were correct, then it 21 could not have been engaging within the sort of 22 content-based requirements. That was the reason for 23 the referral.

24 Now, I admit the Attorney General has come 25 in here and said: Well, wait a second, whatever the 1 Secretary of State's people may have originally said, 2 we're doing something different now. We're here only 3 on the sharing theory. It's not at all about the 4 rest of it. They've been very clear about that.

5 The problem, though, is the Attorney
6 General has jumped in with gusto here. And we keep 7 hearing, as we'll see with these new requests that 8 VRF has made, it seems like we can't get a straight 9 answer about reasons why we're being denied access to 10 things. And that, Your Honor, is a telltale sign 11 that there is something else going on here than just 12 a dispassionate weighing of the statute.

13 Finally, whether you view this as a content 14 or a viewpoint-based ban, or whether you look at this 15 as an overbreadth issue, it's going to fail strict 16 scrutiny. And we'll come to that in just a second.

17 Your Honor, I won't go into great detail on 18 the statutory interpretation being flawed. I think 19 we've almost sort of flogged that issue a little bit.
20 But I do want to point out something that wasn't 21 covered before. And it's this criminal provision 22 1-4-5.6, the definition of the crime of unlawful use 23 of voter data refers to purposes. It consists of a 24 knowing and willful use of such information for 25 purposes prohibited by the Voter Records System Act.

1 And then, what's odd is it refers to Article 5 en 2 masse.

3 Okay. We look to Article 5. There is no
4 reference there to purposes. You have to be 5 creative, and you have to say: Well, the 6 prohibitions on the state or data processors not 7 disclosing, that's kind of like a purpose, so those 8 are the purposes we mean, and we're going to import 9 those over into 1-4-5.6.

10 But there is a much easier explanation for 11 this. You don't have to stretch. Okay, you can go 12 straight to the fact that in 2011, all these statutes
13 were amended. And at that time, 1-4-5.5 and 1-4-5.6 14 were both over in Article 5. So the references to 15 purposes in 1-4-5.6 made total sense, because at that 16 time, the purposes of governmental or election or 17 election campaign -- and I think even research at 18 that time -- they were in Article 5. These two 19 statutes moved over, they shifted over in 2011 to be 20 in Article 4, for whatever reason.

21 And so, you know that's hardly the only 22 reason to disagree with the state's statutory 23 interpretation -- which can't be right -- but this 24 explanation the oddity of why purposes are referred 25 to in 1-4-5.6, but when you look to Article 5, there

1 is no reference to purposes anywhere. It's a remnant 2 of 1-4-5.5, and they just didn't think to change that 3 when they moved these two statutes over. We'll have 4 more about this in our briefing, but I wanted you to 5 see this.

6 Okay. I want to now address the issue that 7 the Court raised in our last hearing. And, you know, 8 the basic question is: Well, if they got the statute 9 wrong, if they're not actually applying the statute, 10 isn't this a matter where you've got to go to state
11 court and have a state court say: Stop, Attorney 12 General, or stop, Secretary of State; you can't do 13 that, because the statute doesn't give you this 14 authority.

15 And, fortunately, that's not how Section 16 1983 works. Because there are many cases, many 17 famous cases, when you begin to look at the facts -- 18 and we had to finally stop doing this -- but many 19 famous cases where a state official would rely on a 20 statute, a state statute; clearly have it wrong, and 21 then use that to violate the constitutional rights of 22 the defendant. So one reason, after the Civil War, 23 that the statute was drafted this way, they say, 24 "Under color of any statute," so if someone purported 25 to rely upon a statute -- which they're doing here --

1 "or also regulation, custom, or usage." So it may 2 not even be something that ties back to a statute.

3 So it could be really even worse than the 4 conduct here, where, potentially, there is not even a 5 statute that even comes close. And that was Adickes 6 versus Kress, which I've referenced here. This is 7 discrimination in places of public accommodation.
8 And the defense was raised there, well, there is no
9 statute that says you have to do this. And there, 10 the Court was very clear, we look at the 11 interpretation of custom, we look at the settled 12 practices of state officials of imposing sanctions or 13 withholding benefits. Well, that's what we have 14 here. We have a practice of the Secretary of State, 15 and now, the Attorney General has unfortunately 16 signed on, saying: You can't do sharing. That's 17 really what the statute means, and you'll be 18 prosecuted for that, even though there is hints today 19 of nibbling around the edges, and allowing some 20 sharing. But, of course, we'll never know what those 21 are. That leads to separate issues like vagueness.

22 One important case which we'll talk about,
23 the Dombrowski case, Your Honor, I took a little 24 liberty here, and I took a clip from the Oliver Stone 25 movie on JFK, because it relates to the DA in New

1 Orleans, Garrison, who also played a prominent role 2 in that movie.

3 Anyway, in the Dombrowski case, he went 4 after several civil rights groups, saying that they 5 violated a state statute against subversive communist 6 organizations. The plaintiffs there said, Hey, you
7 know, Garrison and others are using the state statute
8 to harass us. We are not a communist front group.
9 You know, we're a -- this is a civil rights group.
10 And the Supreme Court said: Look, it is not right 11 for you -- the district court was wrong, actually, to 12 hold that it should abstain pending authoritative 13 interpretation of the statutes in the state courts, 14 which might well decide that, yes, you know, you're 15 not communist party front group, so you're not 16 covered here. What the Supreme Court said is: No, 17 they're threatening you with prosecution of the 18 statute. The threats themselves are the chill. And 19 that's the violation.

20 And so, yes, you can come into court, even 21 though we're going to have to potentially look and 22 see what the statute means, it is not appropriate to 23 abstain when there is an actual federal 24 constitutional violation. That's the last picture I 25 have in my slide show. But I'm almost done.

1 So finally, on strict scrutiny, the state
2 gave us four interests in their brief. They adhered 3 to those during the hearing, I think. One is to make 4 sure that people sign the affidavit and know the 5 permissible uses. The problem, Your Honor, is that 6 the affidavits themselves have changed, and they are 7 wrong.

8 It's unclear that people not knowing the 9 permissible uses of voter data is that big of a 10 problem. And a total ban on sharing is not narrowly 11 tailored to deal with that situation.

12 Second is, we need to make some money,
13 you've got to raise fees. Well, there are many other 14 ways to handle that. Again, a total ban is not 15 narrow tailoring.

16 Next, they say it makes voters feel better 17 to know that disclosure is only on a "need to know 18 basis." First of all, there was no evidence of that, 19 other than kind of the leading testimony that Ms.
20 Pino was taken through about her own feelings. There 21 is other things you can do to make voters feel better 22 about protection. They could extend the 23 nondisclosure law to public officials; nothing 24 stopping them from doing that. But it assumes the 25 conclusion, too, that only some people need to know.

1 That is what the case is about. You can't really 2 assume that conclusion as part of your rationale as 3 well.

4 And then finally, combating misinformation
5 because of stale data, that has all the same problems
6 as in point 3. There is not a single -- not a shred 7 of evidence of voters being up in arms because of 8 stale data.

9 That doesn't apply to VRF, which does 10 update its data. The example that they gave with Ms.
11 Vigil was incorrect, actually. Because the entire 12 point of VRF's analysis was to compare the April data 13 to the November data from the election, and then try 14 to explain why the discrepancy was there. It didn't 15 matter that somebody was complaining about the 16 following December.

17 So there is just not evidence to support
18 these interests. And even if they are legitimate 19 interests, they're not compelling enough, and there 20 are certainly many other provisions you could enact 21 to advance the same interests here.

22 I've mentioned retaliation here. We're not 23 asking for a relief based on this theory. You'll see 24 more of it, and I want to emphasize here mainly the 25 idea that the evidence seems clear, despite what you

1 heard Ms. Pino kind of backtrack on her referral; 2 that it was this idea of misinformation that 3 motivated everything, motivated the strong language 4 and attacks against VRF in the media. And it brought 5 the AG in.

6 The AG is pressing the investigation. The 7 AG has tried to refer this to the FBI. No one is 8 backing away and saying: Well, wait a second here, I 9 think we might have gotten the statutes wrong. Is 10 there some kind of off ramp? They're all in.
11 They're all in to go after VRF, even after knowing 12 this sort of thinking that led to the referral in the 13 first place.

14 Okay. We're about done here. That was all 15 on the merits.

16 Of course, there are multiple factors here 17 for preliminary injunction. Irreparable harm to the 18 plaintiffs for having to take the data down; 19 therefore, cutting off all of its communications with 20 its users. That is a direct harm against speech.
21 Under Elrod versus Burns, that's irreparable harm.
22 That is clear and there is no questioning that 23 authority.

24 Lack of harm to others is the thing that 25 the state has focused on here. The problem is there

1 was no evidence, the state brought no evidence of 2 complaints that it received about people in New 3 Mexico coming forward and saying: Hey, we're worried 4 about VRF, or we're concerned. We're being 5 threatened. We're being harassed. I think I don't 6 want to register to vote now. I want to cancel my 7 registration.

8 Everything we heard was speculative and it 9 was basically the state's own witnesses being led 10 through a series of questions to agree that they 11 would be concerned and have to do this or that.

12 But remember, Your Honor, the state itself 13 has set up a system where everything comes down to 14 this affidavit. It did not have to be this way. It 15 doesn't need to stay this way. And so there has been 16 no actual evidence of harm to other people.

17 Finally, the public interest. And here, 18 this is where the statute comes into play. The 19 statute, properly interpreted, does weigh the 20 competing interests. Don't forgot, we have a 21 National Voting Rights Act, which we'll hear more 22 about in the coming weeks that say that the states 23 have to share this data. That is the system of 24 sunlight is what the federal government has 25 prescribed. States have leeway in how they do that.

1 But the idea that this stuff needs to remain private 2 and that's public interests, that's sort of not open 3 to us because the statutes themselves tell us what to 4 do.

5 In fact, they try to -- the Secretary of 6 State knows how to go and change the statutes. They 7 tried to once before. It apparently failed with 8 another change this year. Why do the statutes still 9 say what they do, if the law and the public interest 10 is really what the Secretary of State says? The 11 statutes don't make the choices, the Secretary does.

12 Finally, Your Honor, what injunction should 13 issue here? And again, we'll make this available, it 14 will be in briefing. I want to just put it in words 15 here. The defendants, and all those in concert with 16 them, should be prohibited until further notice from 17 taking any steps to investigate, threaten, cite,
18 charge, prosecute, or punish VRF, its agents,

1 its voter lists and election systems.

2 So, Your Honor, that's what we're doing
3 today. The record shows that's what we're doing.
4 We're not asking for free rein here. The lines we've 5 drawn are actually the lines in the statutes. So 6 when you've got this situation of an overbroad 7 customer usage, a good tailored injunction ought to 8 follow the lines of the statute. Because that's 9 available to us here; that's what the preliminary 10 injunction should look like; and that's what we 11 respectfully ask the Court today.

12 Thank you, Your Honor, for your immense 13 patience with us, and with me, in particular, today.

14 THE COURT: And you'll be filing this 15 PowerPoint on the CM/ECF.

16 MR. GREIM: I can file it on the ECF. I 17 could file proposed findings and conclusions on the 18 ECF and give this informally. Whatever the Court 19 desires.

20 THE COURT: Well, we'll talk about findings
21 of fact and briefing a little bit later. But why 22 don't you file this PowerPoint on CM/ECF.

23 MR. GREIM: Okay.

24 THE COURT: Thank you, Mr. Greim.

25 Ms. Serafimova, if you wish to make a

1 closing argument, you may do so at this time.

2 MS. SERAFIMOVA: I do, Your Honor. Thank 3 you.

4 And I'll have to start by saying that it's 5 still unclear to me what theory plaintiffs are 6 pursuing. They're talking overbreadth generally, 7 without tying it to a particular statute. So I will 8 go over both statutes that we have been discussing.

9 The first statute is 1-4-5.5. This is the 10 statute that requires an affidavit and has the 11 so-called use restrictions. And plaintiffs lack 12 standing to challenge the constitutionality of that 13 statute on any theory. First, regular standing 14 requires a credible threat of prosecution. As I 15 stated before, and as I was quoted to have stated 16 before previously, the Attorney General's Office is 17 of the position that any prosecution will be under 18 1-4-5.6, not 1-4-5.5. And that is based on our 19 statutory interpretation, which, again, we'll brief 20 in detail after today. But also we discussed more 21 than once up until today.

22 And so there is no credible threat of 23 prosecution under 1-4-5.5. And in any event, that 24 statute does not carry its own criminal penalty. And 25 so we don't have a signed affidavit, and therefore,

1 there cannot be any false swearing. So if there is 2 no regular standing to challenge 1-4-5.5, then there 3 can be void for vagueness claim with respect to 4 1-4-5.5. And likewise, there can be no claim, no 5 prior restraint claim with respect to 1-4-5.5.

6 Now, if this is the statute that plaintiff
7 asserts is overly broad under the First Amendment, 8 then they cannot demonstrate an injuring fact.
9 Because as this Court has indicated, if the Court 10 accepts that this is the statute that is relevant,
11 then it will likely find that VRF's use of uploading 12 the data falls under either governmental use or 13 election campaign related use. And given that their 14 conduct is not currently prohibited under that 15 statute, they don't have standing to challenge it, 16 because there is no injury in fact. Because 17 invalidating 1-4-5.5 on its face for overbreadth 18 would not change their circumstance one bit.

19 The same is true of Holly Steinberg. She 20 actually has not engaged in any conduct whatsoever, 21 so she's under no threat of prosecution under any 22 statute. But, again, for all the purposes, her 23 circumstances will not improve, should the Court find 24 in her favor.

25 And then, to the extent there is an

1 argument to be made that VRF would benefit from Local 2 Labs' conduct being found constitutional, that 3 statute still prohibits commercial use. And I
4 believe Mr. Greim has admitted today that commercial
5 use can be regulated. And so Local Labs --
6 regardless of, you know, whether this Court finds 7 that uploading is governmental use or election use, 8 Local Labs' conduct of selling the data -- and we 9 know they sold it because they paid 5,000 for it, and 10 then they charged 15,000 for it to VRF -- so their 11 conduct would still be a violation and not 12 constitutionally protected, so there would be no 13 change in circumstances there.

14 So, again, if there is no injuring fact, we 15 need Article III standing regardless of the theory.
16 So even in overbreadth cases, we need Article III 17 standing. Plaintiffs cannot show injuring facts with 18 respect to 1-4-5.5, so they don't have a claim that 19 survives there.

20 Now, on a substantive challenge, again, we 21 do -- given our interpretation of 5.5, we do concede 22 that plaintiffs have not violated any of the use 23 restrictions, because those use restrictions do not 24 prohibit uploading the data to a website. That is 25 under 5.6. So that doesn't change our theory. And

1 with respect to -- to the extent that the challenges 2 that there is substantial overbreadth substantively 3 in 5.5, given the use restrictions, plaintiffs have 4 to show that the use restrictions, 5.5, substantially 5 breach the First Amendment rights of the other 6 parties now before the Court. And, you know, those 7 use restrictions must regulate substantially more 8 restrictions than the First Amendment laws. There is 9 actually no evidence whatsoever on that point. All 10 that must be real and substantial. Again, nothing to 11 that effect from any of the witnesses with respect to 12 5.5.

13 And so Local Labs, their use is commercial 14 so doesn't get the same protection. And so,
15 substantively, 5.5 does not actually significantly 16 chill anybody else's protected First Amendment 17 rights.

18 THE COURT: Let me ask you this question:
19 At the last hearing we heard testimony that it is not 20 members of the public who are doing analysis of voter 21 data to ensure data integrity, but Voter Reference 22 staff. And it sounded like the main function of 23 VoterRef.com for the public is for people to check 24 their own voting record. If people can check their 25 own record on the Secretary of State website, then

1 what is the injury to Voter Reference, if they can't 2 publish this voter data but can only analyze it?

3 MS. SERAFIMOVA: Well -- and I was going to 4 mention that, Your Honor. There isn't any. Because 5 anyone -- like you said, any New Mexican registered 6 voter who wants to check their own data, there is a 7 section of the Secretary of State's website where 8 they can go. I have done it. You just put in some 9 information. You can share that log-in information 10 with anyone you want. So people can check their 11 individual information.

12 Like I said, this case is not about that.
13 It is about people who do not wish to share their 14 residential address, where their children live, for 15 example. Your address, my address -- not, of course, 16 Mr. Greim's address because he doesn't live in New 17 Mexico and this doesn't effect him. But, yes, if 18 what they wish to do is allow individuals to check 19 their own voter records, that's already available, 20 and it's protected so that no one else is harmed in 21 the process.

22 So again, I think with respect to 5.5 and 23 overbreadth, there is absolutely no evidence in the 24 record that substantial amounts of protected speech 25 are being prohibited along with unprotected speech.

1 And like I said, there is no standing on any theory 2 possible. And so there can also not be a void for 3 vagueness or challenge with respect to that statute.

4 So now we're going to move on to 1-4-5.6.

5 And, as you know, Your Honor, our interpretation of 6 that statute is that it incorporates by reference
7 portions of Article 5, relevant portions of Article 8 5. And I'll just mention, yes, the statutes were 9 recompiled in 2011. Since then, there have been 10 numerous amendments, including the fact that, in 11 2015, the legislature put the definitions of 12 governmental purpose and election campaign purpose in 13 1-4-5.5. But they never thought it necessary to take 14 the reference in 1-4-5.6 to the voting registration 15 system as Article 5. That reference has remained 16 consistent.

17 So we cannot assume that the legislature
18 was incompetent, was negligent. We have, again, 19 based on principles of statutory interpretation, we,
20 in fact, have to assume the opposite. They made 21 other amendments, they did not make that change, and 22 that must have been, therefore, intentional.

With respect to 1-4-5.6, plaintiffs actually do not challenge that statute and our interpretation of it on its face. We've invited them

1 to do that. They didn't brief it. They continue to 2 deny that that statute is even relevant. So there is 3 no facial challenge to 1-4-5.6 as of today.

4 Now, they seem to be bringing -- (Zoom 5 audio garbled).

6 THE COURT: Hold on. Do you want to start
7 that over? We didn't pick it up.

8 MS. SERAFIMOVA: Oh, I'm sorry. So I was 9 going to say that there is no facial challenge to 10 1-4-5.6, unless of course, that's what their 11 overbreadth argument is intended to be. And I will 12 address that. And, actually, I might actually start 13 with that.

14 So, as we briefed in our response, one, it 15 is our position that, again, 1-4-5.6 prohibits 16 anyone -- anyone, regardless of identity, regardless 17 of purpose, regardless of viewpoint, regardless of 18 content, from distributing voter data that has been 19 provided or received from our office.

20 Now, I think it's very important to mention 21 right now that sharing is not a statutory term.

22 Sharing is something that can be used -- Mr. Greim 23 has used it, and has led to equivocation. Sharing is 24 not a statutory term. The statute says: No selling, 25 loaning, surrendering, or otherwise providing access

1 to. Sharing can mean that plus. What we are focused 2 on, the prohibition of selling, loaning, otherwise 3 providing access to, distributing; those are the 4 statutory terms.

5 And, so I said it before, and there is no 6 evidence to the contrary, discussing the data is not 7 the problem. Analyzing and criticizing it is not the 8 problem. The problem is when you receive a file from 9 the Secretary of State's Office, and then you hand 10 that file over to someone else that is not within 11 your organization, whether in electronic or paper
12 form. That is the problem.

13 So, as we discussed in our briefing, 14 1-4-5.5 is, therefore, completely content and 15 viewpoint neutral. It doesn't matter what's actually 16 in the file. It doesn't matter who obtained the 17 file. It doesn't matter who they're handing it over 18 to. It doesn't matter why they are handing it over 19 to that person, and it also doesn't matter what that 20 other person is going to do with it. So this is a 21 content neutral regulation, statute; custom, I guess, 22 was one other term that was used today.

23 As such, it is subject to a different First 24 Amendment analysis. It is true, we conceded that it 25 is speech. But it is a different kind of speech that 1 is more akin to conduct. And that is why, as the 2 Court is well aware, there is a different First 3 Amendment standard that applies. And we have briefed 4 that in our response.

5 Now, I do want to address something that is 6 being put forth for the first time -- and again, this 7 was not briefed; this is not actually part of the 8 motion for preliminary injunction -- but for the very 9 first time plaintiffs are now claiming that 5.6, as 10 interpreted, and as applied by the Secretary of 11 State's Office is overly broad under the First 12 Amendment.

13 Now, to prevail on that theory, they have 14 to show that 5.6 prohibits a substantial amount of 15 protected speech, as compared to the unprotected 16 speech that it prohibits. That's the standard. And 17 that standard simply has no logical application to a 18 situation such as this one, where we are analyzing a 19 content neutral regulation of speech that is akin to 20 conduct. There is no protected speech -- there is no 21 unprotected speech, in the sense that if it's speech, 22 all of it is prohibited. No one can upload the data 23 on a website.

24 And so this is very, very similar to a DMV
25 case that we cite in our response, where again, it

1 was found to be content neutral. Anyone who obtains
2 my address from a Motor Vehicle Department is then 3 prohibited from further distributing that address.
4 It doesn't matter for what purpose, to whom, and so 5 on. And the court in that case found that there was 6 no First Amendment violation.

7 It simply does not make sense to try and 8 apply an overbreadth theory where, if it is speech, 9 then all of it is prohibited. It's not about the 10 speech. There is no distinction between, again, 11 protected speech and unprotected speech. So if 12 overbreadth of 5.6 is the plaintiff's main theory, 13 they don't have a case, and the motion should be 14 denied on that ground.

15 Now, if you give me a second just to go 16 through.

17 Okay. So next Mr. Greim talked about 18 animus. And yes, there is some emotional language in 19 some of the communications. But animus does not 20 exist in a vacuum. It actually has to be -- it's 21 only relevant if it is evidence that some adverse 22 action was taken because of such animus or motivated 23 by such animus. And there is simply no evidence to 24 any adverse action whatsoever.

25 We treated their IPRA request the same as

1 everybody. We responded. We -- and by the way, you 2 know, they claim that -- the retaliation claim they 3 didn't have enough information to include that in the 4 complaint. Well, all they needed to do before filing 5 the complaint is submit an IPRA request, and they 6 would have received the very same information.

7 But setting that aside for now, we 8 referred -- or the Secretary of State -- when I say 9 "we," I speak mostly on behalf of the Secretary of 10 State's Office, as the main defendant here -- but 11 when that referral was made, it was treated exactly 12 the same as the only other referral that had ever 13 been made, which was -- it happens to be a couple of 14 weeks subsequently, but neither target was given 15 advance notice, neither target was contacted.

16 The Office believed they had probable
17 cause, and so they summarized that belief into a 18 letter, and they sent it to the Attorney General's 19 Office.

20 So, yes, perhaps the Secretary of State's 21 Office and its communications director did not 22 applaud VRF for uploading everyone's data online, but 23 that, in and of itself, is not unlawful. And, again, 24 there is no adverse action to actually litigate here.

25 Mr. Greim talked about the form, and how

1 the form has changed, and only now does the form 2 require the requester to actually promise not to 3 upload data on websites, essentially. Well, 5.6 does 4 not actually require an affidavit. So that language 5 does not even have to be in the form. It always has 6 been, in order to put people on notice, in order to 7 serve the state interests of making people aware that 8 they should not be redistributing our voter data.
9 But there is no legal requirement for it to be there.
10 It's purely informational. And even that is not -- 11 you know, actual notice is not required. As we all 12 know, everyone is presumed to know what the law 13 allows and prohibits. And we still presume that 14 there is a deterrent effect, even if we don't require 15 actual knowledge.

16 So I did mention that sharing, again, has 17 caused a lot of equivocation today. It is not a 18 statutory term. And so the important part is 19 selling, loaning, otherwise surrendering or 20 distributing the voter data, again, does not apply to 21 discussions. There is no evidence that it does. And 22 actually, I believe, we have evidence on the record 23 that it does not apply to lawful discussions.

24 Again, the hypothetical that two parties 25 may want to share the data that led to their

1 conclusions, that's unfortunate. But, again, the 2 only way for 5.6 to be effective is if it prohibits 3 all sharing outside of the regulatory process, 4 because otherwise, it creates a gap that we cannot 5 prosecute, that we cannot control.

6 And also, there was some argument that, you
7 know, voter A could not discuss the data with voter 8 B; every one of them has to pay for it. There is no 9 argument that the fees are unreasonable. So that's 10 not before the Court. So we have to assume the fees 11 are what they are. Plaintiffs are not complaining 12 about the fees. If people have to pay for the data, 13 sobeit. But that's what the New Mexico legislature 14 has decided. But that's not a constitutional factor 15 to invalidate the statute.

16 I think Mr. Greim talked about a
17 content-based referral, that the referral mentions, 18 you know, the three purposes, and therefore, the 19 referral is content based. Obviously, the witness 20 disputes that, the testimony disputes that. The crux 21 of the referral is in the conclusions. But, 22 nevertheless, assuming for the sake of argument that 23 there was a content-based referral, first of all, 24 that's the theory being brought for the first time 25 today.

1 Secondly, it doesn't entitle plaintiffs to 2 the relief that they're seeking on the motion. If 3 the referral is content based, there is no -- that 4 doesn't lead to them now uploading the data. Maybe 5 we get another referral that's better phrased.
6 Perhaps. I don't even know. I don't know what the 7 remedy is. But it certainly is not to ignore 5.6, 8 and interpret it by the Attorney General's Office and 9 the Secretary of State's office.

10 And so, again, there seems to be a 11 suggestion for setting aside overbreadth, because 12 again, there is no protected and unprotected speech.
13 We cannot quantify how much protected speech and how 14 much unprotected speech 5.6 prohibits, because it 15 prohibits all uploads and all distribution. And it 16 doesn't care for the contents and the viewpoint. So 17 overbreadth does not apply.

18 To the extent they're saying we are 19 applying that statute in a discriminatory way to 20 them -- which I guess is where they were getting at 21 with the custom citation -- there is no evidence to 22 that effect. We didn't deny Local Labs' request for 23 data, the same way we didn't deny Catalist and I360's 24 request. They were valid on their face. We didn't

1 were processed and the information was provided.

2 Also, the two referrals to the Attorney
3 General's Office, they were treated the same. No one 4 was given advance notice. No one was ignored on 5 purpose. Both were treated equally.

6 And, you know, a mention was made that we 7 are working with the California Attorney General's 8 Office. I would have to be the witness on that point 9 because I think the only person actually who has 10 spoken to them -- and again, as the witness has 11 testified, the California Attorney General's Office
12 reached out to us, not the other way around.

13 So, no, we did not ignore their request to 14 speak. But again, if Mr. Greim would like to put 15 evidence on the record to that effect, I would have 16 to be -- I am the only one who can testify to that.

17 So we've never actually denied any properly
18 filled out affidavit. Again, there is the only one 19 exception, which is the VRF affidavit that was 20 submitted May 27th, as we discussed, it will very 21 likely be denied. Although, as you heard, a final 22 decision has not been made. But, again, it is out of 23 concern that compliance with that request would 24 actually lead to criminal liability for the Secretary 25 of State's Office. And that is under 1-20-15, which 1 is conspiracy to violate the Election Code.

2 So, you know, there was some suggestion 3 that vast amounts of sharings are not being 4 prosecuted or referred for prosecution. That is 5 simply not true. Again, the witnesses testified they 6 never heard of anybody else. The ones that they have 7 heard about, Catalyst and I360, we repeated that 8 many, many times. The election was the priority in 9 the last many months. And no one was worried about 10 Catalyst between the last hearing and today. That 11 was just not a priority. So no conclusion should be 12 drawn from that. In fact, Ms. Vigil promised to take 13 a closer look at that. And there is no reason to not 14 believe her on that.

15 And so, again, I think a lot of the 16 so-called evidence of unprosecuted unlawful sharing 17 comes from, with all due respect, Mr. Greim's misuse 18 of the term "sharing." But the witnesses testified 19 it is selling, loaning, otherwise making -- 20 distributing, otherwise providing access to. If an 21 organization requests the information, it can be 22 shared internally, as long as the uses remains 23 lawful. But it can never be shared externally.

24 And Mr. Greim mentions the Campaign Finance
25 Act. I know nothing about the Campaign Finance Act.

1 He has not cited it in any of his briefs. I assume 2 there is a reason for that. So I would just ask the 3 Court to ignore that mention.

4 On that point, Mr. Greim also mentioned 5 that the federal election -- there is a federal 6 election statute that requires us to make the 7 information at issue public. Well, if that's the 8 case, that would be a federal claim. We're in 9 federal court. Why aren't we pursuing -- or, you 10 know, why aren't we here under that claim? And 11 again, it's not briefed. It's not put in front of 12 this Court. So I would ask the Court to weigh that 13 comment accordingly.

14 We mentioned that the Democratic Party 15 cannot put the data on its website. The same as the 16 Republican, same as the Libertarian. No one can do 17 that. There is no content-based discrimination and, 18 there is no discriminatory enforcement.

19 Okay. And lastly, you know, we talked 20 about the state's interest is extremely strong in 21 this case. I mean, you know Your Honor, has 22 corrected me numerous times, these are fact 23 witnesses. But when they testify about their own 24 experience as voters, that should be discounted.
25 Well, that doesn't make sense.

1 So when Ms. Pino says that as a high-level
2 public official, she has an interest in her privacy, 3 and she has taken affirmative steps as to actually 4 keep her residential address private, and she's 5 concerned about it being public, that's enough to 6 discount it. Yes, it's not a study, you know, how 7 voters will say, but it's definitely relevant 8 credible evidence that there will be a negative 9 effect, should the motion for preliminary injunction 10 be granted.

11 And we've discussed how, as Your Honor
12 stated, if what they want is to allow people to check 13 the accuracy of their own data, they can do that.
14 They also have other avenues. They can ask people to 15 voluntarily provide that information to them. They 16 can send mailers asking. They can create an 17 interactive website where people can log into their 18 information. There is no significant burden to them.
19 Because their presumption is that everyone is just so 20 happy to have the information online, well, they 21 should test that presumption and ask people to 22 volunteer that data.

23 So another element I want to highlight, is 24 again, it is extremely important to keep 5.6 on the 25 books as we interpret it. Because, again, if I don't

1 sign an affidavit, and I obtain the information from 2 some third party who is willing to risk being 3 prosecuted for making a false statement or a false 4 affidavit, then without 5.6, I cannot be prosecuted,
5 and I can do with that data whatever I wish, and then 6 the whole system is dismantled. So 5.6 is critical 7 to making -- you know, 5.5 works to making the system 8 work, to fostering trust in the electorate process, 9 encouraging people to participate, which the 10 requisite first step is to register and to provide 11 all this private information.

12 And lastly, of course, there is the issue 13 of the fees. If I don't obtain data by way of 14 affidavit, the Secretary of State's Office has no way 15 of charging me for it.

16 And so my last point would be that, again, 17 the retaliation claim is not part of the motion for 18 preliminary injunction. And so -- well, I'll stop 19 there because there is really no point to go further 20 on that, I don't believe.

21 And just to recap, Your Honor. If we're 22 under 5.5, there is no Article III standing, because 23 a favorable -- there is no injuring facts and 24 ultimate redressability. You have expressed the 25 belief that their use is already lawful under one of

1 the defined terms. There is also no regular standing 2 or prudential standing, because they cannot show a
3 credible threat of prosecution, because I have said 4 many times -- and then, of course, case law, where 5 essentially the functional equivalent has happened
6 where a prosecutor will sign an affidavit, and say, 7 "I'm not going to prosecute plaintiff," and the cases 8 get dismissed for lack of standing. And if there is 9 no standing for 5.5, there is no void for vagueness
10 and there is no prior restraint challenge. And 5.6 11 is content neutral, applies to everyone regardless of 12 content, viewpoint, so on and so forth.

13 Overbreadth simply does not make sense in 14 that sort of First Amendment silo, if you will, where 15 we have speech that is more akin to -- that is more 16 akin to content -- I'm sorry, to conduct -- and that 17 conduct is being regulated in an absolutely content 18 neutral way. And we've laid out those arguments in 19 our response.

20 So I very much hope that the Court has 21 questions that I can answer at this point. But if 22 you don't, that's all I have for today. But please 23 do allow me to clarify, if there is anything that 24 needs clarification.

1 Ms. Serafimova.

2 Mr. Greim, I'll give you the last word.

3 And maybe you could start by answering the question
4 that I posed to the state, and that is that testimony 5 we heard at the last hearing that it's not members of 6 the public who are doing the analysis of voter data 7 to ensure data integrity, but the Voter Reference
8 staff. And it sounded like, again, the main function 9 of VoterRef.com for the public is for people to check 10 their own voting records. If people can check their 11 own record on the Secretary of State website, then
12 what is the injury to Voter Reference if they can't 13 publish this voter data, but can only analyze it?

14 MR. GREIM: Sure, Your Honor. And thank 15 for you giving me the chance to answer that, because 16 I -- and perhaps I should have included that in my 17 presentation. I sort of focused on other parts of 18 our dispute. But there are really two parts of Voter 19 Reference Foundation and how it's useful.

20 The first part is this sort of macro 21 analysis. And that is the analysis that's done by 22 people at Voter Reference Foundation going through 23 the data, then publishing those results.

24 And so, for example, when you saw earlier 25 today the most recent request that we made and said:

1 Hey, we won't public this unless we get an order from 2 the Court, the internal analysis is really what we 3 call project 2. That's what we call project 2 in 4 that letter. And so that's the kind of work that 5 Tina Swoboda and others would do; they would see if 6 they find discrepancy or some other issue. They then 7 reach out to the Secretary of State and they try 8 to -- you might remember her saying -- they try to 9 limit the amount of things that can't be figured out, 10 and they limit the discrepancy down from thousands 11 and thousands down to, you know, 20 or 30. So that's 12 project 2. And maybe I should reverse the numbers.
13 But that's the first thing they do.

14 But the outward, public facing part of VRF 15 is just the accessibility to the data. That's what 16 we called project 1 in that letter. And that's sort 17 of the crowd sourcing element. And this is why I 18 really want to drill down, Your Honor, because it's 19 not primarily about someone just checking their own 20 data.

21 Now, it's true -- I think more people get 22 to their data and can see the different years they 23 voted and things than people who tend to just check 24 the New Mexico website. But remember Ms. Swoboda -- 25 I forget if she walked through it with me or with

1 opposing counsel, or if I said it as initial Q and 2 A -- but the key is you'd know other people in your 3 household. You know other people in your precinct.
4 You have friends and family. So you know quite a bit 5 more than just yourself. And the idea is that rather 6 than keeping each person in a silo, where all they do 7 is just go check their own information -- and we just 8 hope that millions of people do that -- the hope is 9 that maybe thousands of people who know, you know, 10 tens or hundreds of others pretty well, will go on 11 and check for those, and find out that their great 12 uncle, who they know passed away three years ago, is 13 listed as voting last year, or you know, is on the 14 rolls still, or something like that. And so it's 15 about far more than just checking your own data.

16 Because if that's all it was, it's going to 17 take forever for this process to work. People need 18 to be able to know what's in the data and talk about 19 it with each other.

20 You might pull it up and say: Well, it 21 says Uncle John voted two cycles ago, but I think he 22 died then, and talk to your mother about it or a 23 friend. That's the point of this, is to get multiple 24 minds working together out in the general public 25 about these voter records. So we've got to be able

1 to have those conversations and share that data with 2 each other or those conversations can't happen.

3 We can't use the power of multiple minds
4 working together at once. I don't mean to sound like 5 science fiction here, Your Honor, but we can't just 6 keep people in their own individual silo, because 7 that already exists. People would not have spent all 8 this money and put all this time into Voter Reference 9 Foundation if all we were doing is just making the 10 same thing the Secretary of State already has.

11 So I hope that answers your question on 12 that point. But I'm happy to answer follow-ups, 13 though, on that issue.

14 THE COURT: No. I'll give it some thought.
15 Thank you. Go ahead.

16 MR. GREIM: I'm not going to run through -- 17 we've gone on for a long time. I know you're going 18 to get submissions. But I do want to hit just a 19 couple of high points. I really want to focus on 20 this overbreadth theory. I know we talked a lot 21 about viewpoint discrimination and content-based 22 discrimination. But I think we're missing the nuts 23 and bolts of the law of overbreadth here.

24 Overbreadth does not compare protected 25 versus unprotected speech. That is not what the 1 doctrine does. You heard that from opposing counsel.

2 Instead, it compares the actual sweep of the law,
3 versus the plainly legitimate sweep of the law.
4 That's the delta that we compare. And the actual 5 sweep of the law here is everything. It can't be 6 shared outside of a person, if it's a person who 7 possesses it. It can't be shared outside of the 8 entity, if the entity possesses it. It can't be 9 done, period, with an asterisk for whatever the 10 exceptions that Ms. Vigil believes might exist. It 11 can't be done at all.

12 So it's a massive -- the sweep is as far as 13 it can go, when it comes to selling, loaning, or 14 otherwise providing access to. I think sharing is a 15 fair word for that. So that's the problem. What's 16 the plainly legitimate sweep? When might you say:
17 You can't share it with somebody else? You might say 18 you can't sell it to somebody else for profit when 19 it's not for governmental or election or campaign
20 finance purposes -- or, I'm sorry, election campaign 21 purposes. In fact, that is what the law says. If we 22 could read it properly and understand it, that is 23 what the law says.

24 So Local Labs doesn't -- I'm sorry, Your 25 Honor.

1 THE COURT: No, go ahead.

2 MR. GREIM: Okay. So Local Labs -- by the 3 way, it's not a commercial purpose just because money
4 changes hands. It's a commercial purpose when you 5 sell it to someone to use it for what everyone 6 understands to be commercial reasons.

7 It gets even crazier if, say, the 8 Democratic Party wants to share it with the candidate 9 and they're going to now, say: Well, wait a minute, 10 we paid 5,000. We're asking each candidate to chip 11 in $800. Well, having money change hands does not 12 convert this to a commercial purpose. But I don't 13 want to go off on that tangent.

14 The issue here, we've got to look at the 15 plainly legitimate sweep, which is pretty narrow 16 compared to the actual sweep. And that's the issue.

17 The other trap which we should not fall
18 into is say: Well, you've got to point to one 19 statute that is overbroad, and you've got to look at 20 each one of them individually. But that's not the 21 analysis that the state has done here. Remember the 22 state has cobbled together parts of 1-5-22, but not 23 all of it, just parts of it. They've added that to 24 1-4-5.6 -- part of 1.4.5, 6 and say, that's a new 25 crime. The new crime is any sharing.

1 So what we're attacking is that theory.
2 The cobbling together of one statute with another 3 statute to say New Mexico recognizes a blanket ban on 4 sharing. That's the thing that we are challenging.
5 That's what's overbroad. Okay. So there are other 6 parts of 1-4-5.6 that actually marry to 1-4-5.5, or 7 at least did before they were both shifted to Article 8 4.

9 So I just want to be clear on those points.
10 I don't have a lot more. I just want to come down to 11 this: There are policy issues here about who should 12 be able to see the voter data. You know, I recognize 13 that. And there is arguments that, Hey, Voter 14 Reference Foundation, we like what you're doing, but 15 couldn't you do it this way? Or couldn't you engage 16 in this speech instead?

17 But remember, in the First Amendment
18 context we don't say: Well, there is alternative 19 channels of communication open to you, go over there.
20 When you completely block one channel of 21 communication, which is what they're doing here with 22 a blanket ban, that's the scope we look at in a First 23 Amendment case. They're completely blocking it out.
24 And they're going beyond the statute. But that's 25 what they're doing.

1 We're seeking relief. The injunctive
2 relief we're asking for here does not strike down a 3 statute. Courts don't strike down statutes.
4 Instead, in the federal court, they enjoin state 5 officials from violating a federally protected right.
6 And they do it in a particular circumstance.

7 So that's what we are asking for here. We 8 are asking for protection from this ongoing 9 prosecution that might morph into a new theory down 10 the road. We'll see. But we're asking for it to be 11 put on hold so they can put the information back up.
12 And people are concerned about privacy, but the 13 statutes already make that decision for us by not 14 banning this kind of publication. There is no ban.

15 So with that, Your Honor, I think I'm all 16 done, unless you have other questions.

17 THE COURT: No, I think on the merits
18 that's it.

3 crystallize the issues best for the Court is what I

5 THE COURT: Well, I won't force them on 6 anybody, but, yeah, they are helpful to the Court in 7 putting together its findings of fact and conclusions
8 of law. Having said that, what do you want to do?

9 MR. GREIM: Okay. If they're helpful, then 10 that's what we'll do. I'm agnostic between that and 11 a brief. But if I were a judge -- and that day will

1 submit will be two weeks from today, which I think 2 today is the 15th, so it's the end of business on the 3 29th.

4 Let me ask -- and this question will be 5 directed more at the plaintiff here. Because I think 6 I mentioned this last time, I want to be a good judge 7 and not sit on this to a point where I'm not ruling 8 in a prompt manner on your motion for a preliminary 9 injunction. But I would like to think about this.
10 Using the 29th as sort of a benchmark, how much 11 longer after that do I have to think about these 12 issues before you begin to say I'm not being a good 13 judge and getting my ruling out?

14 MR. GREIM: Your Honor, I've never been 15 asked that question before, other than like when 16 there is an election coming up or something.

17 Your Honor, we really would just like it as 18 soon as we could get it, knowing how much you have to 19 travel, you're covering in other districts and 20 things. We would want to get our data back up and 21 restart New Mexico. But, you know, all I can say is 22 as soon as we can. But I mean, given that we've 23 taken two full days, and we're going to have probably 24 100 findings of fact and 40 conclusions of law, or 25 something like that, you know, it may take a while to 1 go through the material.

2 THE COURT: Well, give me something 3 specific.

4 MR. GREIM: All right. Maybe something,
5 Your Honor, by the third week of July.

6 THE COURT: All right. Let's look at my 7 calendar. I should have brought it with me. Let's 8 see, the third week of July. July 1st is a Friday 9 this year. So the next week would be the 8th, the 10 next week would be the 15th. If I had it out by the 11 end of business on July 22, do you think that would 12 be reasonable and a good court as far as ruling on 13 your preliminary injunction?

14 MR. GREIM: Your Honor, yes, we would.

15 THE COURT: All right. So I will plan to 16 have something out by 5:00 on Friday, July 22. And 17 my math is correct, that is a Friday, right, July 22?

18 Okay. Is there anything else we need to 19 discuss while we're together? Anything else I can do 20 for you today, Mr. Greim?

21 MR. GREIM: No, Your Honor. And thank you 22 very much for staying with us for all these hours 23 here, and for the court reporter.

24 THE COURT: All right. And Ms. Serafimova, 25 anything else we need to discuss while we're

6 forward to your submissions.

7 MR. GREIM: Thank you.

8 MS. SERAFIMOVA: Thank you.
